Thank you Secretary of State Waltermire, Justice Harrison, Lt. McEnaney and the members of the Montana National Guard for your impressive part in our opening ceremonies.

Fellow members of the House of Representatives, I welcome you to the 47th Montana Legislature. I thank you for the opportunity to serve as Speaker of this House and I look forward to working with you during the session and for the next two years.

It is an honor to serve as your leader but I am also aware of the responsibility of this office. With that in mind I pledge to be at your service to assist you in any reasonable request you may have during your labors here.

When we took our oaths of office a few minutes ago each and every one of us assumed a position of responsibility and trust. We must each do our best to warrant that trust.

I am impressed with the many talents and capabilities and the tenacity of you veteran legislators, and I am especially pleased with the quality of the freshmen who I have had an opportunity to meet. We should now use our diverse individual talents—work together—and address the problems and challenges that face our state.

In your zeal to solve the problems of your constituency and the state—be careful that the “quick fix” does not create new problems. Don't correct a mistake with another mistake.

I am sure that you have some very good ideas on how to solve our state's problems—however a greater challenge is to make the best of Montana's many opportunities.

We have in our state abundant natural resources—minerals, timber, water, productive land, scenery, wilderness, wildlife.

We have a workforce and ingenuity that can make productive use of all of these, while at the same time keeping our traditional high quality of life in Montana.

OPPORTUNITY IS KNOCKING. Please don't close the door on it.

The image you build in the eyes of your constituents depends on how you apply yourselves in the months ahead. I can tell you with certainty that if we work hard together in a positive manner our image as a legislature will be greatly enhanced.

I expect all of us to work hard—the reward for our hard work will be the pride that we did our best. Let's make the citizens of Montana proud of the 47th Legislature.

The Speaker then introduced former Secretary of State Frank Murray and thanked him for his many years of service to the State of Montana.

STATE OF THE STATE MESSAGE
GOVERNOR TED SCHWINDEN
Forty-seventh Legislative Assembly

January 9, 1981

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the Forty-Seventh Legislature and people of Montana. Four days ago, I became the 19th Governor of the State of Montana, a responsibility I accepted with enthusiasm. As Chief Executive of Montana, however, I do not run the state. You do. This government belongs to the "good people" of Montana. Every Montanan has the power to decide priorities and, through the members of this distinguished legislative assembly, collectively to determine public policy. The role of the Governor is to implement those policies, and to lead by example.

The people of Montana have spoken. The trend toward bigger government must end. Cost-conscious, people-sensitive management will be the standard of this new Administration.

Twelve years ago, Governor Forrest Anderson, in his State of the State address, said: "It is the duty of a Governor to bring to the attention of the people and the Legislature the unfinished business of the State—particularly the unfinished business which affects the quality of life in Montana."

Today I want to address the "unfinished business" of the state, not in an all-encompassing series of one-liners, but in a public priority context.

Our first priority is to make government work—work hard—work responsively—work effectively. Prudent use of public money is the number one goal of this new administration. We began in early November the process of evaluating state programs to determine where reductions could be made without crippling the quality of government services.

Words, of course, do not produce results. Management, in private business or public sector, succeeds only when the "boss" keeps his or her word.

As campaigner, I emphasized the need for a lean state government; as governor, I will "put my money (or rather the taxpayers' money) where my mouth is." My budget requires a reduction in the staff of the office of the governor 22.5 FTEs below the executive budget—and six less than the current level!

Frugality, like charity, begins at home. I will ask the department directors to follow my example and trim their total number of FTEs by two percent over the next two years—without changing the average grade level. On December 1, 1980, there were 14,295 employees on the state payroll. By June 30, 1983, I intend to reduce that total number of state employees—subject to legislative additions in this session.

I will release the specifics of my budget proposals on Monday, but the budget process will not end that day. The 60-day transition period afforded a new administration is insufficient really to come to grips with the Executive Budget. I have advised the legislative leadership that department directors will be submitting budget revisions during the next few weeks, after they have had the opportunity to examine their agency budgets with a critical perspective and a fresh viewpoint. I ask that you give this new administration a chance to prove its commitment to a sensible and efficiently run state government.

I can tell you today, however, that the supplemental budget we will submit Monday will reflect an initial $52 million reduction from the Executive Budget request for general fund expenditures.

Better management requires better organization. Consequently, I am proposing major reorganization within the executive branch. A transfer of responsibilities between the Department of Natural Resources and the Department of State Lands affecting state-owned forestry lands and the mined land reclamation program will improve the resource management decision process. And it is high time—past time—to improve the state decision-making process.

We also propose to combine within one agency the business and development functions of the Office of Commerce, the Department of Community Affairs, the Department of Professional and Occupational Licensing and the Department of Business Regulation. This new Department of Commerce should minimize the adversarial relationship between the public and the private sectors and afford to economic development the higher profile it has so long deserved. We will not save multi-millions of dollars, but we can provide a more responsive government mechanism and improved service by eliminating two departments of state government.

This administration's determination to create a Department of Commerce brings to the fore once more the subject of the state's involvement in economic development. Twenty years ago, in 1961, Governor Don Nutter told the thirty-seventh legislature: "We must broaden our tax base by encouraging Montana businesses and industries to expand into new areas, and by attracting outside industries into our state."

Ten years ago, in 1971, Governor Forrest Anderson told the forty-second legislature: "We must be able to attract and control stable new industry. A modern, reorganized government will give Montana a decided advantage in promoting the development of this state and the economic security of its people."

Today, in 1981, another governor stands before the forty-seventh legislature addressing the same problem. In the last twenty years, we have made progress in creating new jobs and in protecting the working people of this state. In the Eighties, we will do even better.

Nineteen-eighty brought bitter economic news to our state. The abandonment of the Milwaukee Railroad, the closure of our timber mills in Western Montana and the shutdown of the Anaconda Company smelter and refinery weakened our economic well-being and illustrated our vulnerability.

The decision of the Anaconda Company to pull out of its namesake community was a particularly brutal lesson in the instability of a single-industry economy. With one press release, 1,500 people lost their jobs, and a community was virtually devastated. If there is a bright spot in the Anaconda decision, it is the prospect of rebuilding a new Anaconda—a diversified, economically sound community. This state, and this administration, must settle for nothing less.

The diversification of the Montana economy, however, must be a statewide effort. Although the success of any economic development program will rest largely upon the private sector, state government can provide the impetus for development. And, by setting an example in the way it handles its own affairs, state government can enhance the economic attractiveness of Montana to potential investors. A Department of Commerce will more efficiently serve Montana's business community as well as provide a forum to attract new businesses to the state. Through incentive and by example, the state can spur new development.

Effective economic development must go hand-in-hand with environmental survival. Make no mistake! Ted Schwinden is as committed to preserve the environmental dignity of this state as he is to develop our business and industrial capacities. I will not turn my back on the record of environmental progress Montanans put together during the last decade! And I will veto any piece of legislation that seeks to destroy that record.

Montana needs growth and Montanans need jobs, but economic progress comes from expanding the economy in harmony with our surroundings. Environmental sanity and economic development are not incompatible—progress and protection can, and must, be our dual objective.

We can and we should create economic opportunities through the conscientious use of our resources, and development of our water resources is a good example. Putting Montana water to work for Montana's future is an imperative. By repairing existing state projects, creating new irrigation opportunities or developing off-stream storage facilities, we can provide jobs, protect our water and improve our environment. I will propose a comprehensive water development program to the 1981 Legislature to do just that.

Much of the "unfinished business" discussed so far has related to management. What does better management mean for Montana citizens? It means tax reform—the opportunity to develop a more equitable tax system.

In 1980, Americans demonstrated their frustration with taxes, inflation and an oppressive economy through their power at the polls. They resoundingly defeated incumbents throughout the nation. Montana was no different. The message was clear. The message was "Change!"

This administration will respond to that discontent by easing the burden of taxation on the average taxpayer. Government can be run more efficiently and more inexpensively, and taxpayers are entitled to the savings.

Tax reform, not tax relief, is the proper response. My budget message will recommend several tax reform programs that conform to the Democratic Party tradition by benefiting the majority of taxpayers, not the special interests. I will propose the total repeal of the income tax surcharge for all Montanans earning less than $20,000—the lower and middle income taxpayers who make up 90 percent of the taxpayers in this state.

I also intend to propose a uniform motor vehicle licensing system where the maximum cost for licensing a personal vehicle will be $65. I am tired of long lines at the courthouse waiting to pay ever larger license bills, and I believe most Montanans feel the same way. The revenue loss to each county will be replaced by the state.

The distinction between tax reform and tax relief must be made clear! We will not condone the overcollection of taxes to provide illusory relief from resulting surpluses. This administration will not be a party to tax relief schemes where imaginary dollar figures arouse taxpayer expectation, but mean little when it comes to the average citizen's tax bill. Montanans are entitled to relief—relief from politically-motivated rhetoric regarding tax "savings." I want substantive tax reform so the check that the average Montanan writes for motor vehicle licensing or income tax payments is visibly smaller.

I have not talked about the problems facing agriculture, education, natural resources, local governments, human services and the many other concerns that make a governor's job challenging, and the legislative role frustrating. Those problems will be addressed with the care and concern they deserve. Transportation, for instance, is an area that I consider important enough to require a special message to the legislature.

The problems of 1981, I suspect, are not much different from those in past sessions. But our need to work together to resolve the problems that face Montana has a new imperative this year because of the political realities.

Last Wednesday I received a letter from a Montanan whose academic credentials are nationally recognized and whose insights into the politics of this state are well documented. I speak of K. Ross Toole—historian and respected author. He wrote:

"There are those who believe that this session of the legislature will be unrelievably contentious and that it will play small games for small pools of power. I do not believe that. Politics, in the good sense of the word, will obviously be played. I should hope so. That is the essence of democratic government.

But that this administration and this legislature do not have a deeper and more vital commonality than political gamesmanship, I do not and will not believe. Our common interest in serving all the people of Montana—and above all—our progeny and successors, constitutes by far the greatest weight on the scale. It is that standard, and that standard alone, upon which history will judge us."

And how do we find the commonality of purpose that minimizes partisanship and assures progress? We will find it in our Western heritage, and our shared commitment to keep Montana the "last of what is best in America."

Our shared heritage in the West must be protected against federal encroachment, whether in the form of assaults on our coal severance tax or in the form of insensitive public land policies. But let us wage that battle as patriots intent on the restoration of a responsible federal-state partnership, not as angry rebels whose motives will be viewed by other Americans as self-serving.

Our Montana heritage must also be protected from our own apathy—and ignorance. The best way to protect the Montana heritage is to use it—to live it. It is, after all, all around us in the talents of our people—our most valuable resource.

Montana's art community has brought Montana's heritage to life on canvas, with music, through poetry and literature, pottery and sculpture, and this administration will make that contribution available to every Montanan. Why?

Because artists provide mirrors that reflect our past, and inspiration that projects our future—they highlight the subtle but unique differences of our state—the differences that make one say, with pride, "I choose Montana."

LET US PRESERVE THAT CHOICE.

Reverend Lokensgard delivered the benediction.

Majority Leader Fagg announced that the "party of peace and the party of harmony" would like to present an olive branch to the Honorable Governor as a token of the peace and harmony they hope will prevail throughout the Forty-seventh Legislature.

The Governor was escorted from the chamber.

Senator Stephens moved that the Forty-seventh Legislature, in joint session this day, authorize the publication of 500 copies of Governor Schwinden's State of the State Address. Motion carried.

Joint session adjourned at 12:25 p.m.

House stood in recess until 4:00 p.m. this day.

House reconvened at 4:00 p.m.

SPECIAL ORDERS OF THE DAY

A committee from the Senate entered to notify the House that the Senate was ready to convene in joint session.

Members of the Senate were admitted to the House.

The Legislature being in joint session, Senate President Turnage, occupying the Chair for the joint session, appointed the following committee to notify the Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of Montana that the Legislature is in joint session and ready to receive the State of the Judiciary Address: Senator Anderson and Representative Yardley.

Representatives McLane and Ellison present at this time.

Reverend Lokensgard gave the invocation. Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

The committee escorted the following members of the Supreme Court to the rostrum:

The Honorable Frank Haswell, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Montana, and the Honorables John C. Harrison, Gene B. Daly, Daniel Shea, John C. Sheehy, Frank B. Morrison, Fred J. Weber, Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of Montana.

After being presented to the members of both Houses by President Turnage, Chief Justice Frank Haswell gave the following State of the Judiciary Address:

"THE STATE OF THE JUDICIARY" by Hon. Frank I. Haswell, Chief Justice MONTANA SUPREME COURT

Thank you, Mr. Speaker Marks, Mr. President Turnage, Leaders of the Republican and Democratic parties in the House and Senate, Members and Staff of the Forty-seventh Legislative Assembly, Ladies and Gentlemen.

This is only the fourth time in the 92-year history of our State that the Chief Justice of the Montana Supreme Court has been invited to speak to a joint session of the Legislature on the State of the Judiciary. You are to be commended on your desire and willingness to acquaint yourselves with the operations, conditions and problems of this coordinate branch of State government. The health and well-being of Montana's judicial system is, to a large extent, dependent upon your understanding and willingness to help.

The top priority of the judiciary must always be to provide quality judicial services to meet the needs of the people of Montana as promptly, as efficiently, and as economically as conditions permit. With this in mind, I want to take you on a brief tour of Montana's judicial system, point out to you the changes that have occurred since I spoke to you two years ago, and give you an overview of its condition, highlighting some of the problem areas that merit your consideration in the forthcoming session.

On the Supreme Court level in the two-year period since I last addressed you the Court has been substantially current in hearing cases filed before it. The focus of our problem has been in deciding and finally concluding cases that have been submitted to us for decision in a prompt, thoughtful, and efficient manner. The process of research, deliberation and the preparation, revision and editing of written opinions is a time-consuming process little understood by persons outside the judiciary and the legal profession.

The cases that come before us, unlike many of the cases that are filed in the District Courts, are not routine cases of a nonadversarial nature. They are all adversary contested matters with at least two sides represented by counsel. These cases have become increasingly more complex and time-consuming. Since I addressed you two years ago 962 new cases have been filed before us. During that period of time we have concluded 1,026 cases. Despite our best efforts, 57 cases submitted for decision remained undisposed of on January 1st of this year. An additional 253 cases were in various stages of completion but not yet ready for submission to us for decision.

In summary, during the last two calendar years, the Montana Supreme Court has handled, processed, and concluded more cases by far than ever before in the history of this state.

Nonetheless, we anticipate significant improvement in this area during the next biennium as a direct result of increasing the size of the Supreme Court by the addition of two justices which you approved during the last Legislative Session. The two new members are Justices Morrison and Weber who were elected last November, who assumed their office one week ago, and who are seated with us in the chamber today. For the most part we will sit in rotating panels of five justices under operational rules adopted by the Court recently, thus enabling us to utilize our judicial resources more efficiently to accomplish the multitude of judicial and administrative functions assigned to us under the Constitution and Statutes of Montana.

On the District Court level of Montana's Judicial System, the progressive increase in case filings continues unabated. The Judiciary has no control over the number of cases filed. On a statewide basis, about 60,000 new cases were filed in the District Courts during the past two calendar years. We anticipate a continuation of this trend of increasing caseloads at a rate of increase of somewhere between 1200 and 1500 cases per year based on past experience. This basic problem of ever-increasing caseloads reflects trends which are deeply imbedded in our society and which will not suddenly nor miraculously disappear.

I suggest to you today that there is a substantial and serious imbalance in the caseloads and workloads among our judicial districts in Montana, among the various counties within these judicial districts, and among individual district judges throughout the State. As long as this imbalance is permitted to continue we are not utilizing our judicial resources effectively.

As an example, during the last two calendar years case filings per judge varied from a high of about 1400 cases per judge to a low of about 400 cases per judge. Travel mileage, in handling caseloads, varied in both years from approximately 20,000 miles per judge per year to 300 miles per judge per year.

Under the Constitution of the State of Montana, the Legislature is charged with determining how many judicial districts are needed, the number of counties within each judicial district, and the number of district judges necessary to service the caseload in each judicial district. Presently Montana is divided into 19 judicial districts varying in size from one to seven counties, with each judicial district serviced by one to four district judges.

Two years ago when I spoke to you, I suggested the appointment of an interim legislative committee to look into this existing imbalance and judicial structure, but the bill was defeated.

The need is even greater today. The judiciary of Montana has recently been criticized by the Legislative Auditor's office and by some segments of the press for failure to promptly decide cases submitted for decision. A statute of Montana requires each Supreme Court Justice and each District Judge to file an affidavit that no matters submitted for decision remain undecided after 90 days or the justice or judge does not get paid. This statute was enacted in 1917 when caseloads were a small fraction of the caseloads today. Although the purpose behind the statute is commendable, it may produce results that are counter-productive. A judge needs a reasonable amount of time for deliberation and research in rendering quality judicial decisions. While 90 days may appear to be a reasonable allowance of time to decide a case, what about a judge who has a disproportionately high caseload, whose judicial time is substantially occupied in hearing cases? If this 64-year old statute is literally and strictly applied to 1981 conditions, it may result in many judges refusing to hear any more cases until their decisions are completed in cases already heard, thereby creating additional delay, backlogs, and access to the courts. I mention this simply as another facet of the problem of imbalance inherent in the existing judicial structure.

Therefore, I renew my previous suggestion to this Legislative Session. The time has come to take a good look at this judicial structure with a view toward restructuring the system to correct the imbalances and caseloads of which I have spoken. Two years from now district judges come up for election. Some have announced their intention not to seek re-election. This suggests that now is the time for the Legislature to address this problem if there is to be any phasing out or restructuring of judicial districts. Statistical information to aid you in this task is available to you through the Court Administrator's office.

Centralized authority, responsibility and accountability are fundamental to the effective operation of any court system. The 1972 Montana Constitution vested in the Montana Supreme Court "general supervisory control over all other courts" and the authority to "make rules governing . . . practice and procedure for other courts" subject to a veto power in the Legislature.

Since I addressed you two years ago we have handed down a decision requiring the district judges in all multiple judicial districts in this State to select one of their number as chief district judge and centered administrative authority for the operation of the district court in each judicial district in that district. We have required annual reports from the chief district judge concerning the operation of the district court, each judicial district covering their operation during the preceding year. This system has worked reasonably well except in one or two cases.

There is a definite need for revision and updating of the Rules of Practice and Procedure of various Boards and Commissions functioning under the Supreme Court. This work is well under way but has not been completed to date due to a lack of time and manpower. With the addition of two additional justices on this Court we hope to accomplish this during the coming biennium.

The 1972 Montana Constitution provides that the Supreme Court "may make rules governing . . . admission to the Bar and the conduct of its members." Pursuant to this Constitutional power we handed down a decision last March containing broad and comprehensive revision of the qualifications and eligibility for taking the bar examinations, for admission to the bar, abolishing the diploma privilege under which graduates of the University of Montana School of Law have been admitted to practice without examination, and various other related matters. We are still in the process of implementing this decision by detailed rules and procedures with the help and assistance of the Montana Board of Bar Examiners chaired by Mr. Robert Poore, Butte. We are in the process of transition to multi-state bar examination covering a standardized procedure and grading of bar examination questions by a national organization supplemented by essay type questions conducted by our own Board of Bar Examiners. We have raised the fee for taking bar examinations from $25 to $125 to cover the costs of administering the bar examination and have added a nationwide examination on professional responsibility of attorneys as a condition for admission to the Bar.

The Commission on Practice, which is charged with the duty of investigating ethical complaints against members of the Bar of Montana, conducting hearings and making recommendations to this Court, has processed 68 complaints in 1980, of which 3 cases have resulted in disciplinary action. Thirty-nine cases remain pending, awaiting commission review. Fifty of the complaints reviewed by the Commission in the last calendar year were dismissed after review as not involving ethical violations or being without merit. The Commission is chaired by Mr. Bruce Brown of Miles City. During the last legislative session Senate Joint Resolution #27 was approved requesting this Court, among other things, to appoint laymen to the Commission on Practice as soon as possible. Thereafter, we appointed three laymen to this Commission, Mr. Ted Delaney, Missoula, Mr. William "Scotty" James, Great Falls, and Mr. John West of Billings. They have been functioning as members of the Commission for approximately the last year and one-half.

The Judicial Standards Commission created by the Montana Constitution and implemented by the statutes of this State is charged with the duty of investigating complaints against the Judiciary of Montana, making rules governing its operation, keeping its proceedings confidential, and making recommendations to the Supreme Court on retirement of judges for disability, and disciplining judges for willful misconduct in office, willful and persistent failure to perform their duties, and habitual intemperance. This Commission is chaired by District Judge A. B. Martin of Miles City. During the past two years a total of 16 matters have received the attention of the Commission involving two justices of the peace, 13 district court judges, and one justice of the Supreme Court. Eleven of these matters were summarily dismissed on the grounds that the complaints did not state grounds for instituting inquiry into judicial misconduct. Formal inquiry was made in two matters and one of these matters was dismissed by the Commission after investigation. One matter of inquiry is still pending. In each instance the Commission has sought to explain to the complaining party the basic reasons for the Commission's disposition of the complaint. As you know, the electors of Montana at the last general election empowered the Legislature to move the cloak of confidentiality from the proceedings of the Commission to such extent as the Legislature sees fit. Proposed legislation in this respect will be submitted to you for your consideration.

The Sentence Review Division is charged with the duty of reviewing sentences imposed in criminal cases. The Sentence Review Division consists of three district court judges appointed for overlapping three-year terms by the Supreme Court. It is presently composed of Judge Holter of Libby, Chairman, and District Judges Langen of Glasgow, and Gary of Bozeman. During the past two calendar years the Sentence Review Division received 193 applications for review of sentences imposed in criminal cases, heard 126 of these applications which resulted in a change of sentence in whole or in part in 46 cases, one of which resulted in an increased sentence.

During the past two years the Commission on Courts of Limited Jurisdiction, chaired by Mr. Timothy O'Hare of Lewistown, has assisted us with the Lower Court training programs mandated by the Legislature and has developed Rules and Procedures for practice before these courts under our supervision. This Commission deals with the operation of essentially local courts such as justices of the peace, police judges and city judges.

In carrying out our supervisory duties regarding training programs for county and city judges, we have found that in-state training sessions, where possible, are more cost-effective than out-of-state training. A majority of the judges of the Courts of Limited Jurisdiction are laymen and not lawyers. In 1979 two training sessions for these judges were conducted under our supervision with 123 such judges in attendance throughout Montana, who received a total of 2460 hours of training in their duties. In 1980 two training sessions were held for judges of Courts of Limited Jurisdiction, the first dealing with rules, statutes and procedure concerning evidence, attended by 123 judges covering a total of 2460 hours of training. The second session dealt with searches and seizures, dealing with all aspects of searches and seizures from arrests through trial. There were 113 judges in attendance, each receiving 20 hours of instruction for a total of 2260 hours training.

In addition, one training session for clerks of the district courts was held in the past year at the Law Enforcement Academy at Bozeman. This workshop updated the clerk's management skills. Eighteen clerks attended these sessions for a total of 360 hours of training.

Additionally, six new district judges attended a workshop at the National Judicial College for new judges. Each received 168 hours of training for a total of 1008 hours for the six.

I would be remiss if I did not point out to you a continuing need for a comprehensive evaluation and assessment of the present method of funding district court operations. The present method is a hodgepodge of State and local funding. During the last Legislative Session you provided for an increased permissive mill levy to finance district court operations with additional assistance at the State level in emergency situations. No funds were provided for this latter purpose. Based on our experience during the last biennium, this permissive mill levy for local funding of district court operations has proved insufficient to cover normal court operations entirely aside from emergency situations. I suggest that this is an area that needs further exploration and evaluation and that definite Legislative policy fixed concerning the funding of district court operations.

Legislation establishing Water Courts was enacted by the last session of the Legislature. The deadline for filing water claims is rapidly approaching with a cutoff date of January 1, 1982. Thereafter, the impact of increased water litigation will descend upon the Water Courts. The water judges are district judges selected by their colleagues to act in this capacity. Chief Water Judge is District Judge W. W. Lessley of Bozeman and additional water judges are Judge Robert Holter of Libby, Judge B. W. Thomas of Havre, and Judge Jack Shanstrom of Livingston. Judge Lessley and these water judges have spent many long hours and done an exceedingly meritorious job in connection with the organization of the system of water courts, the filing of claims, and the education of the public. Legislation will be submitted to you for additional help from retired district judges called back into active service by the Supreme Court or the Chief Justice to handle the considerable volume of water claims. They anticipate using from two to three retired district judges called back into active service on a more or less standby basis when needed. They anticipate the impact of water adjudications will hit the water courts in early 1983. This will impact upon the present use of retired district judges to assist in overworked judicial districts throughout the state. In this latter connection I will advise that during the past two calendar years we have used four retired judges to help out in the existing work of the judicial district court. They have worked a total of 338 days and the total costs have been approximately $27,000.

The State Law Library has undergone substantial modernization and upgrading in the last two years under the able direction and leadership of professional law librarian Claire Engel. According to our Librarian, the State Law Library now contains about 67,000 volumes with about 3,000 volumes having been added in the last biennium. There has been a substantial and continuing substitution of modern legal works and materials for outdated and obsolescent research material. A modern cataloging program is well under way. The State Law Library provides needed research, books and materials for the Legislature and its staff, the Supreme Court, all agencies of State government, attorneys, district court judges and lawyers throughout the State. It is an essential resource of our judicial system.

Our Clerk of Court, Thomas Kearney, and his staff are presently engaged on a program of modernizing the operations of that office to achieve maximum efficiency at the lowest possible effort.

Mr. Mike Abley, the Court Administrator and his staff have been invaluable to the operation of all courts in the State of Montana. Without their efforts and assistance we would still be back in the dark ages in terms of identifying problems, making reasonable management decisions, and in handling the budgeting and financing of court operations throughout the entire spectrum of State and local courts in Montana.

Construction of the multi-purpose building to house the Supreme Court and staff, the Attorney General and his legal staff, the State Law Library, and the State Lending Library is well under way. Excavation has largely been completed and much of the foundation poured. The estimated completion date is August 1982. The site of the building is within the Capital Complex on Sixth Avenue, one block east of the State Historical Museum.

We have several new judges in our District Court and Supreme Court since you last met. In addition to Justices Weber and Morrison on the Supreme Court, District Judge Henson in Missoula and District Judge Sullivan in Butte have been appointed to judgeships and District Judge Harkin in Missoula has been elected to the fourth judgeship in the Fourth Judicial District. Judges Henson and Sullivan, having been appointed since you last met, will be up for Senate confirmation this session.

I hope I have given you an overview of the judicial system in Montana, its problem areas, and matters that seem to me to require legislative attention. We in the judicial system are doing all we can to provide quality judicial services that the people of Montana expect and demand. We earnestly seek your help and assistance in this project in those areas under legislative control. Together we can meet the challenge of the 80's in providing prompt and quality judicial service to meet the needs of the people of the State of Montana.

Thank you.

Reverend Moes delivered the benediction.

Senator Stephens moved that the joint session adjourn. Motion carried.

House reconvened at 4:05 p.m.

Representatives Hurwitz, Kanduch, and Menahan excused at this time.

SPECIAL ORDERS OF THE DAY

Members of the Senate assembled in the House chamber to honor Mrs. "Boo" Walter for many years of service in the print shop. She received a standing ovation and was read the following poem:

Here's to the lady who holds the reins
Of the print shop down in the capitol cellar.
Here's to the lady who takes such pains
To ensure that each bill is white, blue, or yellar.

She went to work for the Senate back in '53
With a mimeograph and staff of one,
Plus a couple dozen ladies who would knit with glee
Until the one-armed printer had the copies all run.
Then they'd collate by hand, with fervor and speed,
Those 220 Senate Bills introduced back then
When last the Republicans were in control and did lead.

The lady handmade the equipment most needed,
One of the tables still used today.
But after all these years her needs have been heeded,
So proved by the fast double-head now on display.
And a 400-bin collator has taken the place
Of those 26 ladies who assembled by hand
Those 635 bills by the ream and the case
To meet the 33rd Legislature's demand.

She calls Council staff late at night
"Please run this bill again and don't take long.
The page is bad, it's entirely too light,
If I print it like this, it'll be all wrong!"
And always she goes to gather all legislation,
Up and down stairs by night and by day,

So everything can be printed quickly—without hesitation.
(The elevator she scorns—it takes too long that way.)
“How many copies shall we make, and please don’t guess!”
The quality and quantity must be the best.
She wants no leftovers, no waste, and no mess—
Only when it’s perfect does she go home to rest.
We return now to parchment and quill
To honor this lady ‘ere to sunny Cal she goes: Who Hurries and scurries and prints for us still?
The print shop lady, Mrs. Walter, our dear Boo.

The Speaker appointed the following representatives to the Memorial Committee:

Bergene, Chairman
Andreason
Kanduch

Representative Fagg reminded the House that under the new rules all requests for drafting of bills have to be in the Legislative Council by the 10th legislative day. That deadline falls at 5:00 p.m. today.

SPECIAL ORDERS OF THE DAY

The Sergeant-at-Arms escorted the Honorable Senator Max Baucus to the rostrum. After being presented to the members of the House, Senator Baucus gave the following address:

Mr. Speaker, distinguished members of the House, ladies and gentlemen, I want to thank the House bi-partisan leadership for this opportunity to address you this afternoon.

I am here today because we Montanans face an old problem that demands our renewed attention: The relationship between Montana and the federal government. Over the next few years, the decisions made here in Helena—and those made in Washington, D.C.—will dictate whether the federal government will be a constructive or a destructive force in this state for decades to come. These decisions will determine the quality of life in Montana far into the twenty-first century.

In the wake of the 1980 election, we are tempted to adopt a "wait and see" attitude. Some suggest the new Administration will respond to an angered electorate and revolutionize the federal government and that unwarranted federal interference will be eliminated.

No one doubts that the strong winds of political change have once again swept this land. Indeed, voters have expressed old frustrations with a new urgency.

Yet, we would be well served to heed the maxim: "The more things change, the more they remain the same." We should remember that, as the 96th Congress of the United States came to an end, Montana's ability to control its own destiny lay threatened by a rash of ill-advised proposals—proposals that will live on and, if adopted, cripple our ability to shape our own economic and political future.

So far, the Montana Congressional delegation—with the help of Montana officials and concerned citizens—has succeeded in preventing unwarranted federal intrusions. But the proposals that Montanans rightly fear were not defeated on November 4th. They live on—and they will face us for the rest of this decade.

Fortunately, our past has prepared us to meet the test of the present and the challenges of the future.

As the decade of the 1970s opened, we Montanans faced our new challenges squarely. The state reorganized its executive branch to enhance its responsibility and to make it more accountable and accessible to the public.

The state adopted a strong, innovative Constitution to replace the 80-year old document written by the copper barons of another age.

The State Legislature drafted, debated, passed and revised a responsible facility siting law to ensure that energy plants are built only as needed and where environmentally compatible.

The Legislature adopted and refined a strip mine reclamation law that has served as a model for other states and for the federal government.

We enacted a water law designed to ensure an organized, even-handed determination of water rights and beneficial uses.

And, we adopted a reasonable coal severance tax to pay the coal development costs we will bear, long after that one-time harvest of an irreplaceable resource.

In sum, Montana's record on energy matters is unparalleled. We have indicated clearly that we will contribute to national energy needs in a responsible and timely fashion. We seek no escape from that obligation.

We will not hamstring needed energy development with delays, cumbersome procedures, or unrealistic requirements. Nor do we propose to profiteer from the nation's disturbing energy predicament.

But, we also intend to make clear that Montana is no longer and will not again become a resource colony. In doing so, we intend to demand, and help structure, a new partnership with the federal government. And we will resist unwarranted federal intrusions.

Unfortunately, Montana's willingness to cooperate has gone largely unheeded.

Montana's history is littered with the wreckage of a short-sightedness that destroys communities, neighborhoods, and families. All too recently, despite our best efforts, we have felt again the tragedy of commerce uprooted—of economic activity halted by forces beyond our control and held to no account.

It is against this background that the federal attacks on our energy program appear so disheartening. For we have labored long and tirelessly to convince the federal government that our approach to the energy crisis is reasonable and deserves support.

We have heeded the words of Thomas Jefferson that the only way states can avoid the abuse of national power is to strengthen state governments—and this must be done by the states themselves.

The recent past makes it clear that the task of strengthening state government is one without end.

Last year, some members of Congress moved against our coal severance tax. They suggested that Montana and other western states were like OPEC—exactng exorbitant tribute at the expense of energy consumers. A number of bills were drafted, introduced and considered. The measures proposed a federal cap that would have slashed our coal tax and ruined our balanced budget.

In a hail storm of bad numbers and faulty arguments, the advocates of this serious federal intrusion forced the pace—slowed only by the well-made arguments of Montanans at the end of the legislative session.

They were not pleased to learn that Montana's severance tax generates a scant one-twentieth of the revenue produced by a Texas severance tax; that Montana's tax adds on the average only about one percent to the utility bill of a typical Midwest consumer; and that the oil severance taxes in Louisiana, Oklahoma, and New Mexico are much higher per unit of heat than Montana's coal tax. They were not pleased to hear; but we made our point. And, for the time, we have prevailed.

A second major challenge to Montana's future was the proposal to create the Energy Mobilization Board. The idea seemed straight-forward enough.

The EMB, we were told, would cut red tape, sweep away the bureaucratic cobwebs, and expedite agency decisions on energy projects. Why? Because the United States must end its dependence on foreign sources of oil.

Unfortunately, it was all too easy to believe and all too good to be true.

The EMB as proposed would accomplish its worthy objective in a wholly unacceptable fashion. It would not foster federal/state cooperation, because it would treat the State of Montana as if we were merely a nuisance or an obstacle. This new super bureaucracy would have the power to ignore and override state laws and local ordinances.

In short, the states would be the victims, not the partners of American energy policy. State and local authorities would be swept from the path as the federal juggernaut rushed to its belated rendezvous with the nation's energy crisis.

Our response to these federal intrusions must be measured, direct, and innovative. We must build on our past, and not weaken our resolve to exercise those powers reserved to our state by the U.S. Constitution.

If we are successful, Montana can lead the way to a new, progressive states' rights. Montanans—along with our friends from other western states—can help chart a new partnership with the federal government—one that respects our state's constitutional rights and allows us to determine our destiny.

But we will not be successful if we get swept up in posturing and rhetoric. We must not appear parochial, narrow and selfish. We must act responsibly and with good sense, or risk losing the hard-fought victories of the past. Permit me to give an example.

The Legislature soon will face the Sagebrush Rebellion. This protest, fed by the frustrations many of us feel because of federal interference in state affairs, makes a legitimate point.

If by the Sagebrush Rebellion, we mean making federal agencies responsive to state concerns, then I endorse it. Heartily!

But, if the Sagebrush Rebellion means transferring millions of acres of land from federal to state ownership, then I question it.

Such land transfers are probably unrealistic and unworkable.

However, even if they were attainable, they pose a severe threat to our state's financial future. And they will ultimately result not in individual ownership, but in large corporate and out of state ownership of our land.

As I attended the confirmation hearing of Interior Secretary nominee James Watt earlier this month, I was impressed by his measured restraint on this issue. A staunch advocate of an increased state role in resource decisions, he made it clear that he would not favor a massive transfer of federal land at this time.

Instead, he advocated a "good neighbor" policy—characterized by much closer cooperation and consultation with the people most directly affected by public land management decisions.

We should welcome this approach.

We should focus on the real points of federal attack on states' rights and mount a forceful, effective defense. What we started in the 1970s, we must continue throughout the 1980s.

We in Congress will work closely and in a bipartisan fashion with you in state government as we continue to protect our state's destiny. It is impossible for those of us in Congress to stop the EMB and save the coal tax and reform on our own.

We need your help.

If we wish to improve our chances of stopping the EMB, we should ensure that our review of proposed energy facilities is conducted in a timely, consistent manner. We may be able to streamline our review procedures so that they operate on a one-stop basis—with joint hearings, joint studies, and a unified decision timetable agreed upon and binding upon all state and federal agencies involved.

If we want to improve our chances of defeating coal tax cap proposals, we must show that the tax is carefully structured so as to cover the legitimate costs of coal development. We will need to expand our attempt to educate federal officials in this regard.

In short, if it becomes clear to the rest of the country that we Montanans are interested in doing our share to increase our nation's energy production, then it is less likely that our right to make those decisions will be challenged.

These are tough challenges. They will test our abilities and our fortitude.

Montana's Congressional delegation will do its best to fend off such challenges. But, we cannot do the job alone. We need your help and assistance.

Working together, we will hasten the day when states can once again serve, in the role Jefferson foresaw, as the true barriers protecting our liberties.

I want to sincerely thank you for inviting me—it feels good to be here, back home in these chambers where I once served. May we all be guided in the days and years ahead to continue to serve, with our utmost, this land we cherish and love—Montana—this "House of Sky."

Thank you.

A statement of intent is required for this bill because it delegates authority to the board of medical examiners to consider physicians' assistants utilization plans and to promulgate administrative rules in that regard.

HB 7 intends that the board of medical examiners carry out the provisions of this bill and act to provide better health care for the public. In this spirit, the bill intends for the board of medical examiners to adopt rules which will clarify the nature and limitations of the supervision of physicians' assistants by physicians. The rules adopted should address issues of direction and supervision such as proximity of the supervising physician to his assistant; the nature of the communication between the physician and the assistant, whether it must be face-to-face or whether telephone communications suffice, and under what circumstances; the questions of protocols for interaction between different health care actors, including issues of liability and the possible direction of others by physicians' assistants; and the rules adopted should give additional guidance to prospective applicants with respect to the requirements for education and experience required of physicians' assistants, the nature of a training program approved by the American medical association, and general information indicating the scope of utilization plans likely to be approved.

In addition, a rule shall be promulgated to specify that a physician may not utilize more than one (1) physician's assistant unless he can demonstrate to the board the ability to supervise more than one assistant adequately.

COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS

Speaker Marks addressed the House:

Members of the Assembly - I think we should acknowledge and honor the historical occurrences today.

The release of the American hostages from their captivity in Iran needs sincere recognition from the hearts and consciences of the citizens of our country.

We are a grateful nation today - grateful to God for the assistance He gave to our hostages and to their families and loved ones throughout this trying ordeal - grateful to our retiring President Jimmy Carter in his continued dedication and determination to resolve this serious issue in a manner which was tempered with reason and common sense.

Almost to the very hour the torch of presidential authority was being passed from President Carter to now-President Reagan, the news came that our American hostages had been set free.

What a glorious tribute to President Reagan that his inauguration should be crowned with such a joyful event. What a glorious tribute to President Carter that his four years as president should be concluded with such a momentous achievement. What a triumphant day for the world - and particularly for all of us who are privileged and honored to be Americans.

Members of the assembly - with your permission - I respectfully request that this message be recorded in the journal of this day as expressing the sentiments of the Montana House of Representatives.

Majority Floor Leader Fagg moved that the Speaker's remarks be entered in the journal. Motion carried unanimously.

MESSAGES FROM THE OTHER HOUSE

The following message from the Honorable Senate was read by Representative Fagg:

The 1981 Legislature admits to the following:

WHEREAS, it is necessary to foster good will among men and women of the illustrious Senate and industrious House;

WHEREAS, new House and Senate members could benefit from the vast knowledge and wisdom present in the hearts and minds of older and, in some cases, more mature members of the 1981 Legislature;

WHEREAS, the Senate of the State of Montana has a long-standing reputation of being "stuffy" and labeled "the Geritol crowd" and recognizes the need to dissolve this unwarranted stigma;

WHEREAS, the House of Representatives of the State of Montana has a long-standing reputation of being a bunch of "rabblers" and friendly to the point of reckless abandon;

WHEREAS, both the House and the Senate agree that the expansion of friendships between House and Senate members is a noble goal; providing that the friendship does not carry with it the responsibility of taking a fellow House or Senate member to lunch or home for dinner;

NOW THEREFORE, it is hereby agreed that a no-host, unchaperoned social function should be scheduled for the purposes of accomplishing the above stated goal. It is also agreed that the function should include only politicians, spouses and other close associates, and to avoid divisiveness, no speeches should be given. This gala affair is to be held Tuesday, January 27, 1981, 6:00-8:00 p.m. in the basement of the Jorgenson's Holiday Inn.

Representative Fagg moved that the House adjourn until 4:00 p.m., January 22, 1981.

Motion carried.

House adjourned at 5:30 p.m.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT
HOUSE BILL 223

Because HB 223 directs the Department of Natural Resources and Conservation to adopt rules establishing the form and content of applications and the criteria, terms, and conditions for making grants to conservation districts from the funds appropriated to the conservation districts earmarked revenue account from the allocation of 1% of the coal severance tax, the House Committee on Taxation issues this statement of intent for the purpose of clarifying that authority.

Section 2 of HB 223 provides rulemaking authority in the Department of Natural Resources and Conservation. It is contemplated the rules should address the following:

- (a) the form of an application for a grant to a conservation district;
- (b) the content that must be included in an application, including but not limited to:
  - (1) the name of the district;
  - (2) a statement that the maximum statutory mill levage [sic] has been levied;
  - (3) the sources of funding the conservation district is receiving that the grant is intended to supplement;
  - (4) the special project or purpose, including administrative purposes, which must be a recognized purpose for which conservation districts are authorized by law;
  - (5) a statement of the need for the grant; and
  - (6) an authorized signature
- (c) the criteria under which the department may grant funds, including but not limited to:
  - (1) the basis of the need for a grant;
  - (2) the availability of other funding sources;
  - (3) the type of project or purpose; and
  - (4) the maximum amount of funding
- (d) such terms and conditions that would insure that the grant funds are used for the purposes specified by statute;
- (e) such rules as may be necessary to monitor and account for the disbursement and expending of any grant funds.

HB 343, do pass. Report adopted.

Representative Azzara excused at this time.

SPECIAL ORDERS OF THE DAY

The Sergeant-at-Arms escorted the Honorable Congressman Ron Marlenee to the rostrum. After being presented to the members of the House, Congressman Marlenee gave the following address:

Mr. Speaker, honorable members of the House.

Thank you for allowing me to come before you to talk about some issues that impact our state. It was a special pleasure for me to participate in the dedication of the West Wing Gallery for Outstanding Montanans yesterday. My pleasure is hereby doubled by having the opportunity to speak to the largest group of outstanding Montanans that assemble within our boundaries.

Out in this body, I see my representative and you can be sure I rely on him and lobby him just like every other constituent.

There are a number of important issues that will be coming before the 97th Congress that I wanted to share with you. By taking this approach, I feel we will be able to work together to insure that the interests of Montana will be protected, and that when legislation is put into place, it will be coordinated with you and be of long-term benefit to the state.

The single most important issue now before Congress is the national economy. It is going to require some tough decisions on the part of the Administration, Congress, and you as legislators. We have to bite the bullet, and it will not be easy. I have to say that I heartily endorse the actions of President Reagan in placing a hiring freeze, imposing a 60-day moratorium on federal regulations, which included the last ditch effort by former Secretary Andrus to push through the reservation water rights.

Let's first address the issue of energy development. Our state is at a crossroad in relation to what kind of development we allow to occur. Along this line, I feel the most immediate and critical threat will be to the coal severance tax. This has already come up in the new Congress, and we have to put forth another intensive effort to bring this threat to a halt.

Last year, Congressman Phil Sharp of Indiana sponsored legislation that would have reduced allowable severance taxes on coal to 12.5%. There were over 50 cosponsors of that bill, and it did gain approval from the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. I want you to understand that the bill is back.

Senator Durgenburger of Minnesota has introduced Senate Bill 178—the same limitation on our severance tax—and he has already gained 9 Senate cosponsors for the bill. It is an issue which is being embraced, for various reasons, by both Democrats and Republicans in Congress.

The House version of the bill, H.R. 1313, was introduced this past Tuesday, and has been referred to Congressman Sharp's Committee on Energy and Commerce. I believe we can expect Mr. Sharp to ram this bill through committee. I have already sent a letter of request to Chairman Morris Udall of my Interior Committee asking that the bill be referred to us. The matter belongs, legally, in the Interior Committee. I am going to do everything I can to see that it is referred to us.

The point I want to make here, is that when Senator Durgenburger introduced his bill, he did it with a press conference that attracted major news coverage. You must understand, he has a well-financed lobby group and public relations firm supporting his position, and promoting it in all the different media.

This group is taking the lead in the offensive against our severance tax. The problem is, of course, that the offensive is really nothing more than a fancy "snow job". Those seeking to limit the tax are presenting only one side of the issue, and using facts and figures which are slanted to make their position look good. This is certainly not an unusual tactic in Congress, but the problem lies in the fact that they are getting away with it. We have the facts and figures to contradict theirs, and show the fallacy of their argument—but we do not have the access to the media that they are able to command. And make no mistake, a large part of this battle will be fought not only in the halls of Congress, but also in the media.

Many of you may not be aware that a major Washington, D.C. law firm—O'Connor and Hannon—has been hired to lobby on behalf of those wanting to limit the coal severance tax. Some of the principals of this law firm have been major political fund-raisers. There is not any doubt that the people of this firm have a pipeline to many members of Congress and wield an extreme amount of influence.

The forces lined up in this fight against Montana carry a big club, no question about it. For another example, the National Coal Consumers Alliance—a name that would lead you to believe that it is an alliance of home owners and utility customers—but is in reality an alliance of large utilities involved in the Supreme Court case. They have over $100,000 to spend in lobbying and advertising against Montana's position. They have put out several impressive looking publications so far, and have distributed them to members of Congress.

Those who want to cut our severance tax count among their supporters Mr. William Rogers—a former U.S. Attorney General—and former Senator Brooke of Massachusetts. In addition, the Midwest-Northeast Coalition, which is a group made up of members of Congress, are vigorously supporting this legislation. In fact, they recently filed before the U.S. Supreme Court a brief against our tax.

We have been able to defeat the limitation on our severance tax in the last Congress. However, we have had to come from a defensive position to do so. It is imperative that we now—together—mount our own offensive.

The question is, how do we do it? I believe this is an area where the State Legislature can take some action.

Several months ago, it came to my attention that Montana, along with Wyoming, was considering the possibility of hiring a firm to lobby our position in the media and also Congress. This is a positive step, and one which must be pursued if we are to achieve maximum effectiveness.

The people of Montana are aware of the true facts about the coal severance tax. We have to convince the people in Minnesota, Indiana, Iowa, Massachusetts, and other states that this tax is not a burden on them as utility customers, and that the tax is mutually beneficial. That both the buyer and the seller in any transaction must be satisfied—or it's no deal. This battle may finally be won on a tide of public opinion.

Another area of real concern to Montana is one that has been before you already—the management of our public lands.

About one-third of the State of Montana is owned by the federal government. The Administration and my committee will be undertaking a close examination of the management of those lands. As Minority Chairman on Forests, Family Farms, and Energy—as Minority Chairman on Oversight and Investigation of the Interior Committee—and as a ranking member of Public Lands and Parks, I expect to have a positive and major role on public lands policy. And that means a major role for Montana.

As Chairman of Oversight and Investigation, I expect to immediately begin to examine the costly duplication of studies where data bases already exist, and to expose excessive employment of Interior Personnel as a result of that duplication and unnecessary study practices. From this position, I will have the opportunity to address areas of major concern to Montana, such as the Sagebrush Rebellion and single-use land policies.

I heartily endorse the multiple-use concept. In the past, most of our public lands were managed as multiple use, and managed for the most part, very well. I feel the new Congress will be taking a much more balanced approach to the management of public lands, and I might add, it is long overdue.

If there is a danger to reasonable and balanced public land policy, I think it will come in tactics that have been increasingly used by some extreme groups to force management limitations into public land policy that they are unable to get through Congress. Those tactics involve filing a lawsuit in federal court before a sympathetic judge to get a favorable ruling. This tactic, more than any other, proves to me that the extremists are a small minority that have been able to sue their way into having a major voice in public lands policy. That voice has for a long time, far exceeded the actual public sentiment for such policy. It is high time to limit that kind of activity.

This is not to say there aren't some areas deserving of some special protection. The Bob Marshall Wilderness is a good example, but the key to the matter is, again, in the word "balanced". A couple examples of poor decisions is the waste of time and money on the wilderness studies mandated for the BLM in Eastern Montana, and the current state of affairs on the Charles M. Russell Wildlife Refuge, which can be cited as a prime example of single-use concept being pushed by an agency.

I know the Legislature, as I am, is concerned about the effects of the Clean Air Act on the industry of Montana. That act will be under review by Congress this year, and I feel it is time to take a long look at it. Too often, we have seen arbitrary regulations imposed which go far beyond what is really necessary to reach the objective—and far beyond the intent of Congress. The extent to which these regulations, written for the most part by unelected bureaucrats, can cause problems was sharply borne out by the recent shutdown of the Anaconda Smelter and Great Falls refinery by the Anaconda Copper Company. If agencies will not respond with sensitivity, let us change the law so that they are forced to.

As some of you know, I am lobbied by our own state agencies. I ask you—how many of these agencies are promoting programs of dubious benefit to anyone but the agency, and directed toward bureaucratic empire building?

I think this is an area where you can offer some help. I would like to see the Legislature, in cooperation with Governor Schwinden, put together a task force to take a look at the needed changes in federal law which would allow Montana to eliminate wasteful, unnecessary, and unduly restrictive programs.

We in Congress can and do change laws and regulations, but in some cases, the problem is not at the federal level. A good example is the law, passed by Congress in 1976, regarding solid waste facilities. The Montana Department of Health and Environmental Sciences, with the rules they laid down, far exceeded Congressional intentions. I have had a number of cities and counties in the state complain to me about these arbitrary rules instituting requirements far beyond the ability of local governments to pay for. The smaller communities simply do not have the revenues to pay for a multitude of programs written by people who don't know what it means to live under a budget—who care only for the propagation of their own rules and regulations, and don't seem to understand that by the time communities pay for clean air, clean water, solid waste, secondary treatment plants, regulated schools and hospitals, and a multitude of other mandated programs—there's not enough left over to properly fund a police force. This—we—you and I, must attempt to change.

I intend to write and push for legislation with an exemption to these regulations for towns of under 5-thousand population. However, if your own state agencies are exceeding what the law intended, that is beyond any control Congress has. I think that you, as legislators, can do a beneficial service for the people of Montana by putting some well-placed curbs on your own agencies.

Another area of concern is that of transportation. We need to improve rail service throughout the west and midwest, and get better turn about times at terminals and so on. The USDA is currently working on a proposal to experiment with railroad co-ops along the line of rural electrics. It is my understanding that Montana has been approached with this idea, and I think that if Governor Schwinden should institute an application for a pilot project to the USDA, I will lend my assistance and support.

We must also insure that funds are available to complete our highway system.

I may work in Washington, but by golly, Montana is my home. My state, and my country is of the highest importance to me. I congratulate you for your responsibility and trust, and I thank you for your personal sacrifice in consenting to do this job.

I will be around the Speaker's office for about an hour, and if any of you would like to confer on a one-to-one basis, please feel free to do so.

Thank you, and good afternoon.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT
HOUSE BILL 67

The current statutory authority providing a preference to blind and handicapped persons in the leasing of vending facilities on state property is not adequate for the purposes of authorizing the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services to administer the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act for either federal or state purposes. The state statutory scheme for providing a preference to blind vendors in the leasing of vending areas in state property is poorly defined and difficult to administer.

This act will provide specific statutory authority in Section 10 by which the Department may administer the programs it has established for the purposes of the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act. Section 10, subsection 2 authorizes the Department to adopt rules for the purposes of implementing the administration of vending facilities on federal property by the department as authorized in the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act and for administering programs mandated by the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act.

This act provides for a state program administered by the Department which will make available to qualified blind persons vending facilities to be operated by them. This programmatic statutory scheme is a more appropriate mode for providing vocational opportunities to blind persons than was the prior preference system. This scheme will insure that federal and state vocational programs are available to those blind persons who are most qualified to become blind vendors. The preference system did not distinguish as to degree of handicap or economic need. This scheme will also insure continuity in the administering of these vending facilities and related programs. The preference system did not insure that vending facilities would be available to qualified blind persons nor did it encourage the investment of program resources in the training of qualified blind persons and the equipping of vending facilities for operation by them. This act clearly defines what state property is subject to the act. This act also provides that the Department may enter into agreements with private parties and local governments in order to make vending facilities on their properties available to qualified blind vendors. The prior preference system in not defining the property subject to the preference raised serious questions as to its intended scope, nor did the prior preference system allow for the expansion by agreement of the blind vendor program into vending facilities on private property.

The act is intended to provide vocational training and active employment for persons handicapped by blindness or serious visual impairment. Since active employment is an important objective of the legislation, the act limits the department's ability to directly operate or to include in its vocational program such passive operations as maintenance of self-service vending machines, particularly on state property. While the department will be able to derive the revenues from vending machines which are now received by the Department of Administration, it is anticipated that the Department will continue the present practice of the Department of Administration and let contracts for provision of vending machines by competitive bid. The act specifically provides for a gradual phasing in of blind-vendor operated vending facilities in any case where the immediate implementation of the program would cause an economic hardship to the current vendor, who could otherwise expect a renewal of contract. The language is written in discretionary terms in order to permit the Department to respond to situations as they actually exist and to preclude the language being used to provide a new contract to a private vendor whose contract, in the normal course of events, would have been terminated without this act. However, it is intended that the Department employ its discretion in a compassionate manner to avoid inflicting economic hardship on an otherwise satisfactory private vendor. The Department is authorized to charge a fee in lieu of rental to blind vendors on state property whose operations become financially successful. Again, the language is made discretionary so that the Department can deal with the situation as it actually exists in practice. However, the intent of this provision is that the Department charge to the financially successful blind vendor a fee in lieu of rental which will provide the state with some compensation for the use of the space without working a financial hardship on the blind vendor.

The certification of blind persons qualified to be blind vendors provided for in this act is necessary for administration by the Department of the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act on federal properties. This certification will constitute the "licensing" mandated in the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act. This certification will be utilized for the purposes of the state program as well. The administration of the program for federal and state purposes will be therefore more congruent.

This act provides that the Department may administer a health and retirement fund for the blind vendors. This fund as well as the blind vendors' program may be funded by a set-aside from the net income of blind vendors. This set-aside is to be a reasonable percentage which will not affect the financial status of the blind vendors to such a degree as to deny them the intended vocational and economic benefits of the program. The health and retirement fund and the blind vendors' program may be funded as well by the Department from the income the Department may receive from vending facilities which it may operate directly. The health and retirement fund is authorized for the purpose of implementing that aspect of the federal Randolph-Sheppard Act. The applicability of this fund to blind vendors on state property will insure that there will be congruence between the program as administered for federal and state purposes.

This act states the authority of the Department for the purposes of the act and provides the general criteria and procedure for the transfer of the administration of vending facilities on state property to the Department. The prior preference system did not define administrative authority nor did it state what the appropriate criteria and procedure would be.

The act provides the Department with the rulemaking authority necessary for the implementation in a definitive manner of the purposes of this act.

SPIPKER, Chairman

SPECIAL ORDERS OF THE DAY

The Sergeant-at-Arms escorted the Honorable Congressman Pat Williams to the rostrum. After being presented to the members of the House, Congressman Williams gave the following address:

Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Speaker Bob, old friend, I appreciate the opportunity and the invitation to come by and address my friends here in the Montana House. Fourteen years ago I served in this House and I note from the voting board that nine of the members that I served with are still here and I'm not unmindful of the fact, and I'm properly impressed that, of those nine, only three are Democrats—Dan, Joe, and Francis. I must admit, fellows, that I know how you feel. When I looked over the political landscape in Washington a few weeks ago, I felt much like you do today, sitting on this side.

You know, Winston Churchill said, "Nothing in life is more exhilarating than to have been shot at—and missed!" Well, those Democrats that are remaining that were shot at and missed are feeling exhilarated, indeed.

I want to pay special note to my representative, Hal Harper. Hal, why don't you balance this budget and cut out all this government spending and lower my taxes?

During this past month here in Montana and in Washington, D.C., we celebrated the ceremony that symbolizes the great marvel of our political system—the orderly continuity by which the reins of government pass from one man to another—from one party to another. There is an element, however, in this present situation that is new to our modern experience. For the first time in exactly fifty years, the U.S. Congress is divided with a Democratic House and a Republican Senate—and of course, a Republican, President Reagan, in the White House. With a somewhat similar situation here in Montana, this seems the appropriate time and place to talk about our new beginnings—about the challenges that face our state and country today—and about the possibilities and the limits of partisanship, at least at the federal level.

President Reagan is off to a good start. His initial relations with the Congress are excellent, due primarily to his own initiatives. He has obviously heeded the admonition that former Senator Arthur Vandenberg once gave to then-President Harry Truman, "If you expect us to be with you on the landing, you had best bring us aboard for the take-off." Ronald Reagan, as few other presidents before him, has brought this Congress along on the take-off.

We Democrats in the U.S. House intend to cooperate—not to confront. Cooperation, of course, requires consultation and compromise on both sides. Cooperation can't survive attempts by either side to politically capitalize on national problems. We recognize, of course, that there are—and ought to be—very real limits to bi-partisanship. However, both political parties must come to grip with some definite realities.

We Democrats should recognize and admit here and now that the garden that has been planted by Democrats needs weeding and the only ones that can really weed it are the Republicans because the weeds are ours. Some of our constituents have grown to like the weeds and to profit by them, and we can't do the weeding.

However, some Democrats, and I must admit to being one of them, are fearful that some of those doing the weeding really think the garden never should have been planted at all and it is not unlikely that they will pull up a few roses along the way.

We must all admit that the Federal Government must establish a partnership with state government. The Federal Government should be less intrusive, and just as we should avoid federal intrusion into economic affairs, as the conservatives insist, so should we observe the demand for less federal intrusion into our private affairs, as the liberals insist.

Everyone must demand, as Republicans have always done, that our tax dollars be spent for programs that run efficiently and effectively. And, everyone must demand, as Democrats have always done, that the nation not retreat from its long commitment to social and economic justice.

We must all understand the message that Americans delivered on election day three months ago when they sent Ronald Reagan to the White House, changed the Congress, and here in Montana, gave control of both the House and Senate to the GOP. The message that Americans and Montanans sent is clear. They want dignity in work and pride in the workplace and in their workmanship.

They want a sense of physical safety on the public streets and in their private homes.

They want courts whose first concern is for the victim rather than the criminal.

They want respect for the American flag in every single country on the planet.

They want a reduced bureaucracy, relief from inflation, and they want government cut.

However, all of us—Republicans, Democrats, and Independents—must realize that Americans are not fools. They know that government simply cannot reduce taxes by 30%, increase defense spending by $30 billion or more, and balance the Federal budget all at one and the same time.

And, that brings me, finally to this matter of balancing the budget—trimming federal expenditures.

We Montanans must approach with genuine concern this proposed slashing of Federal spending. This state of ours is an importer of Federal dollars. Only nineteen other states received more Federal dollars per capita than do Montanans. Montana's position is the envy of most states, and I assure you that my colleagues in the House and Senate and most top government administrators now in power, understand precisely how to balance the budget—on the back of Montana and other lightly populated states:

AMTRAK, small town Post Offices, the unfinished federal highway system, Small Business Administration loans and assistance, target prices and other agricultural stabilization dollars, low rate REA loans, Farmers Homes assistance—all of these and others are important to places like Montana—and all of them are in jeopardy. Sudden and dramatic curtailment of these programs will cause genuine economic displacement in this state.

This president has made it clear that the elderly and the truly needy will not suffer under the budget-cutter's blade—nor should they. And, that leaves the big ticket items, such as transportation, Post Offices, and the rest. Montana will suffer disproportionately to other states if these cuts are accepted in a dramatic way by the White House and the Congress.

Lest I leave the impression that I'm for cutting—but it should be someone else's ox—let me say that my credentials are clear and open. I am the only Congressman in the last Congress who removed from the budget a dam in his own district which I thought was a pork barrel and at best wasn't needed and at least could wait till we got this budget in line. So, there are places to cut and we ought to get on with it and I'm for it—while remembering that we Montanans are not, with Federal dollars, supporting a life-style that is either wasteful or not useful—our farmers help feed the nation and the world—our coal fields help fuel the nation—ours is a productive state and our people are hard-working.

This state has made excellent use of federal dollars. With them life has been better under this Big Sky.

Thank you. I wish you well in your important and critical work in this important and critical time.

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 249

A statement of intent is needed for HB 249 because section 4 calls for development of standards for determining eligibility for care and treatment. It is the intent of the legislature that the criteria in section 5 of the bill be used primarily in determining eligibility for the treatment program established by this bill. Further, the intent of this bill is to help those who already have expended their own resources to help themselves. It is understood that the costs of treatment for hemophilia and related diseases are very high and that the resources of an individual or family may very easily be depleted in an attempt to combat the disease. The program, then, is intended to prevent the impoverishment of families and individuals suffering from the diseases. Individuals and families who have made efforts to help themselves are intended to be covered while those who have not made such efforts are not.

Representative Fagg moved that consideration on SB 168 be passed until the 46th legislative day. Motion carried.

Representative Kitselman moved that HB 56 be taken from Third Reading and returned to Second Reading for debate. Representative Fabrega made a substitute motion that HB 56 be placed on Second Reading this day and that the rules be temporarily suspended to allow the Committee of the Whole to sit again after having risen and reported. Motion carried. (54-35) A point of order was raised that a two-thirds vote was required to suspend the rules. Representative Dussault objected that the rules need not be suspended for the Committee of the Whole to sit again and that a motion to sit again is all that is necessary. The Speaker ruled that the substitute motion failed; therefore, a vote was taken on the motion of Representative Kitselman. Motion carried. (85-4)

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative Kemmis asked Representative Fagg about the republican leadership's plans for tax cuts based on several articles that appeared in various Montana newspapers and complained that the democratic party was not being kept informed.

Representative Vincent further commented, "I would like to thank the press for being the vital link in this process. If it weren't for the press we wouldn't know what they are doing!"

Representative Fagg reiterated that his door is always open to anyone who would like to ask questions. After lengthy discussion, Speaker Marks observed that the press was no longer taking notes (a titter ran through the crowd) and suggested to the assembly that they get on with the business at hand.

Representative Fagg moved that the House adjourn until 3:00 p.m., February 9, 1981.

Motion carried.

House adjourned at 12:25 p.m.

HB 80, do pass. Report adopted.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 80

Although a statement of intent is not specifically needed for this bill, the legislature felt that it was necessary to express its intention regarding the handling of protective payees for those recipients of public assistance who need aid in handling their finances. Because this bill removes the bonding requirement for protective payees, it was felt to be necessary to give some guidance on the handling of protective payees. The attached draft has been approved as a suitable approach to the protective payee situation. It is intended that SRS handle protective payees as described in their attached draft or in a manner substantially similar.

AFDC PROGRAM PROTECTIVE PAYEE

A protective payee program is established to assure that AFDC payments are used in a manner consistent with the purpose of assistance in providing for the best interest of the child/children. Montana SRS would establish the following procedure to administer the protective payee program:

1. Establish Need — When there is documented evidence that a caretaker mismanages funds and that the needs of the child are not consistently met, a protective payee may be established.
2. Selection of Payee — The protective payee must be reliable and capable of managing household funds.

Restrictions — The payee can be a family member, friend or staff member of a community or department agency. Ineligible persons would be ET staff, vendors of goods or services dealing directly with the client and specific restricted personnel of the agency. Those restricted include County Commissioners, executive heads of public welfare departments, special investigative or resource staff, staff handling fiscal processes and landlords.

Selection of Payee — The recipient may participate in the selection of the payee, following the selection criteria.

A contractual agreement shall be entered into between the payee and the county outlining the duties, responsibilities of each.

3. Monitor of Payee — The Department shall establish within reasonable guidelines, the method in which the payee shall carry out his responsibilities. Shelter, food and personal need of payment shall be provided in a manner designed to best meet the needs of the recipient.

A record of payments shall be kept on a regular basis by the payee. This record shall be accessible to the Department for review as frequently as indicated by circumstances, but at least every three months. The review shall specifically address the continuing need for a protective payee, and the way the responsibilities are being carried out.

4. Termination of Protective Payee — Termination shall occur when:

- a. The caretaker is determined able to assume management of funds.
- b. It appears that the protective payee arrangement likely will continue beyond two years. Judicial appointment of a guardian shall be sought.

5. Fair Hearing — Opportunity for a Fair Hearing shall be given to an individual who requests it as a result of any protective payee procedure.

A contractual agreement between the County Welfare Department and protective payee would be made. That agreement would designate the payee, the recipient, and the responsibilities and duties of both the payee and County Welfare Department. A statement would be included designating the payee's understanding of his personal liability in the event of irresponsible actions taken in the role of the payee.

PROTECTIVE PAYEE AGREEMENT

I, _____, hereby agree to accept the responsibilities and duties of Protective Payee for _____ until such time as I am relieved of said duties.

By signing this agreement I understand that my duties include providing for the shelter, food and personal needs of _____ by properly disbursing the funds provided by the AFDC payment provided by Montana State Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services.

I further acknowledge that my responsibilities include maintaining a regular record of receipts and method of disbursement to be available to the (county) Department of Public Welfare for review.

I understand that improperly exercising the responsibilities of Protective Payee shall result in the penalties as included in MCA

Insert: "Section 1. Definitions. As used in [sections 1 through 6], the following definitions apply:

(1) "Agency head" means a director, commissioner, or constitutional officer in charge of an executive, legislative, or judicial branch agency or an agency of the Montana university system.

(2) "Department" means the department of administration provided for in 2-15-1001.

(3) "Employee" means an employee of the executive, legislative, or judicial branch or the Montana university system.

Section 2. Creation of program. The department shall develop and administer a statewide employee incentive award program to appropriately recognize and monetarily reward state employees in a timely manner for suggestions or inventions that contribute to the efficiency, economy, or other improvement of state government by reducing the costs of governmental operations.

Section 3. Powers and duties of the department. The department shall:

(1) adopt rules to equitably administer the employee incentive award program;

(2) provide an opportunity for all employees to participate in the program;

(3) assist agencies in making incentive awards under the program;

(4) grant or deny incentive awards in consultation with the incentive awards advisory council and determine the amount of each incentive award based on first-year monetary savings;

(5) hear appeals from employees on the operation of the program; and

(6) prepare a biennial report to the legislature containing a list of incentive awards and the corresponding savings to the state resulting from each employee's suggestion or invention and providing a general review of and recommendations for improving the program.

Section 4. Appointment and functions of advisory council. (1) The department shall appoint an incentive awards advisory council under 2-15-122. Members of the advisory council must be selected from a diverse group to adequately represent employees.

(2) The advisory council shall meet regularly and consult with the department to review all proposed incentive awards and to recommend granting or rejecting these awards.

Section 5. Eligibility for award. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), an employee may be eligible for an incentive award if his suggestion or invention results in:

- (a) eliminating or reducing an agency's expenditures; or
  - (b) improving services to the public by permitting more work to be accomplished within an agency without increasing the cost of governmental operations.
- (2) (a) An employee may not be eligible for an incentive award if his suggestion or invention directly relates to his assigned duties and responsibilities unless the proposal is so superior or meritorious as to warrant special recognition as determined by the department.
- (b) Suggestions or inventions relating to the following matters may not be considered for awards:
- (i) personnel grievances;
  - (ii) classification and pay of positions;
  - (iii) matters recommended for study or review; and
  - (iv) proposals resulting from assigned or contracted audits, studies, surveys, reviews, or research.

Section 6. Agency head to grant award — amount and source of award. (1) After an agency implements an employee's suggestion or invention and the monetary savings to the state is estimated, an agency head, upon written application to and approval from the department and the incentive awards advisory council, may grant an incentive award to an employee whose proposal meets the requirements enumerated in [section 5].

(2) The incentive award may not be more than 10% of the savings resulting from implementing the employee's proposal for 1 year up to a maximum of $500. Larger awards may be proposed and submitted to the legislature for consideration.

(3) The agency head shall pay the employee from the agency's budget in a single, lump-sum award. This award is in addition to the recipient's regular compensation."

And, as amended, do pass. Report adopted.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 161

The general purpose of H.B. 161 is to provide incentives to state employees to make suggestions or to create inventions that reduce the costs of government operations or improve government operations without increasing costs. The discretion of the Department of Administration in granting awards is limited to 10% of the cost savings realized in the first year, or $500, whichever is less. Larger awards may be proposed but the Legislature must approve the awards and appropriate the money.

The purpose for giving the Department of Administration rulemaking authority is that it can best administer the program consistently throughout state government and determine the amount of money appropriate for an incentive award.

It is contemplated that the rules should address the following:

- (1) the composition of the Advisory Council created by the bill;
- (2) the procedures and bylaws that the Advisory Council will follow when conducting its business;
- (3) providing model suggestion systems for agencies to use when administering the incentive program;

- (4) standards to assure administration of the program on a statewide basis;
- (5) forms that may be necessary to administer the provisions in the bill;
- (6) procedures for detailed investigations and evaluations of suggestions;
- (7) procedures for filing suggestions with the Department;
- (8) procedures for the review of employee concerns regarding the fair administration of the program;
- (9) time limits for the review of suggestions and inventions;
- (10) procedures for the presentation of suggestions or inventions to the Legislature when the legitimate value of the ideas exceeds the $500 limit in the bill;
- (11) procedures covering the timely payment of cash awards that are approved by the Department;
- (12) procedures to maintain the integrity of the program through the review of awards to assure that they are granted equitably, on the basis of merit, and that the reasons for granting an award are made public.

However, if rulemaking proceedings are suspended by action of the administrative code committee prior to the expiration of the 6-month deadline provided for in this subsection, the agency may, following acceptance of the economic impact statement by the committee, proceed with rulemaking during a time period equivalent to that portion of the 6-month period that remained prior to the action of the committee.”

HB 152, do pass. Report adopted.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT
HOUSE BILL 152

A statement of intent is required for this bill because it creates rulemaking authority for the Department of Health and Environmental Sciences, with the approval of the Department of Livestock, to administer and implement law controlling rabies through limits on the possession of wild pets. Rulemaking is primarily needed to add a species of animal to those presently designated "wild animals" by the act if the chance of rabies occurring in that species increases beyond its present level. Coyotes are an example of a species which may become a rabies threat in the future.

As for other rules, most would clarify terms and phrases used in the bill. Examples of potential rule subject matter are:

- (1) to clarify what will be considered a fur-bearing enterprise (Section 2);
- (2) to clarify what controls by zoological exhibitors will be considered to adequately prevent physical contact by the public with wild animals.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT
HOUSE BILL 92

The intent of this bill is to allow the department to comply with the federal Railroad Revitalization and Regulatory Reform Act of 1976, as amended. This act places restrictions on the property taxation of railroads by state and local governments. Basically, the local taxing jurisdictions may not tax railroads at a higher tax rate than that levied on commercial and industrial property in general (49 USC section 11503). This bill provides a mechanism to the department of revenue to adjust the percentage multiplier for converting market value to taxable value for railroad property. It is intended that the department may adjust the multiplier, if necessary, to achieve compliance with the federal requirements.

In making the adjustment the department may take into account both:

- (1) differing percentages, as provided by statute, between various classes of property; and
- (2) differences in the determination of market value between commercial and industrial property on one hand and railroad property on the other, if any such differences exist.

The language chosen is selected to afford the department reasonable latitude in developing a method of adjusting the multiplier.

HB 525, do pass. Report adopted.

House Bill No. 232, introduced by C. Smith

MOTIONS

Representative Moore moved that consideration on HB 43 be passed until the 40th legislative day. Motion carried.

Representative Anderson moved that consideration on HB 375 be passed until the 36th legislative day. Motion carried.

Representative Huennekens moved that consideration on HB 291 be passed for the day because it did not have a Statement of Intent. Motion carried.

Representative Schultz moved that HB 467 be taken from Second Reading and rereferred to the Committee on Agriculture so that a Statement of Intent could be attached. Motion carried.

Representative Fagg moved that consideration on HB 610 and HB 611 be passed until the 40th legislative day. Representative Kemmis made a substitute motion that HB 610 and HB 611 be rereferred to the Committee on Appropriations. After some debate, Representative Ellerd moved the previous question. Representative Kemmis rose on a question of privilege and moved for a call of the House. Sufficient seconds arose. The Speaker directed the Sergeant-at-Arms to lock the doors and locate the missing members. Then, seeing 96 members present, Representative Fagg moved to lift the call of the House. Lacking a two-thirds majority, motion failed. (58-37) Representative Fagg again moved to lift the call of the House. Again, the motion failed. (57-35) Representative Ellerd offered to withdraw his motion. On that premise, Representative Kemmis moved to lift the call of the House if debate could continue. Motion carried. (87-7) Representative Ellerd withdrew his motion calling for the previous question. Representative Kemmis then closed on his substitute motion to return HB 610 and HB 611 to the Committee on Appropriations. Motion failed by the following vote:

Representative Keedy rose to a point of order. Because HB 680 is a constitutional amendment and because fewer than one-third plus one of the 150 legislators voted that the bill "do not pass", the mathematical possibility of it receiving a two-thirds majority vote from the legislature existed. The Chair then ruled that the bill progress to Third Reading. Representative Dussault challenged the ruling of the Chair. Representative Fagg moved for a 15-minute recess for a meeting of the Rules Committee. Motion carried.

House at ease.

House resumed.

Representative Fagg reported the Rules Committee decision:

HB 680 has failed to pass Second Reading; the original rule of the Chair. Representative Keedy appealed the ruling of the Chair. The House voted to uphold the rule of the Chair. (59-21)

Representative Keedy moved that consideration on HB 687 be passed for the day. Motion carried.

Representative Briggs excused at this time.

That the Committee rise and report. (Moore, Chairman). Representative Moore moved the adoption of the Committee of the Whole Report. Representative Eudaily made a substitute motion to segregate HB 137 from the committee report and that, as amended, report be adopted. Motion carried. (56-29)

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Honorable Robert Marks
Speaker of the House
Montana House of Representatives
State Capitol
Helena, Montana 59620

February 13, 1981

Dear Mr. Speaker:

This is to inform you that I have signed the following measures this date:

House Bill Nos. 62, 70, 149.

Sincerely,

TED SCHWINDEN
Governor

The Honorable Jean A. Turnage
President of the Senate
State Capitol
Helena, Montana 59620

February 16, 1981

The Honorable Robert L. Marks
Speaker of the House
State Capitol
Helena, Montana 59620

Dear Senator Turnage and Representative Marks:

In accordance with the power vested in me as Governor by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Montana, I hereby return House Bill No. 76, "AN ACT TO EXEMPT CERTAIN PENSIONS FROM THE REDUCTION REQUIREMENTS WHICH APPLY TO CLAIMANTS OF UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE AND TO INCLUDE SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS WITHIN THE REDUCTION REQUIREMENT; AMENDING SECTION 39-51-2203, MCA," without my signature and recommend the attached amendments.

House Bill No. 76 as adopted allows for the reduction of unemployment insurance payments in cases where a person is receiving both pension and unemployment benefits. House Bill No. 76 reflects current mandatory changes in federal law which are imposed upon the state. The adoption of this bill allows Montana employers to continue to receive an unemployment insurance tax credit.

Recently introduced legislation now in the U.S. Congress has the potential to drastically change the federal requirements in the pension offset area and jeopardize the employer tax credit. House Bill No. 76 does not provide the State with the ability to adapt to changing federal requirements in the pension offset area.

The problem can be solved by language which grants the Employment Security Division of the Department of Labor and Industry rulemaking authority to adopt minimum federal offset requirements. This amendment will allow the state to maintain conformity with subsequent changes to the federal offset requirements.

I urge your concurrence in these amendments.

Sincerely,

TED SCHWINDEN
Governor

GOVERNOR'S PROPOSED AMENDMENTS
TO HOUSE BILL NO. 76

1. STATEMENT OF INTENT

A statement of intent is required for this bill because it delegates rulemaking authority to the Employment Security Division of the Department of Labor and Industry in subsection (4). It is the intent of this bill to grant the Division the authority to adopt the minimum federal offset requirements as set forth in the federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended. This is a conformity requirement of the federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act which is imposed on the states.

2. Title, line 8.

Following: "WITHIN THE REDUCTION REQUIREMENT;" on line 8

Insert: "AND TO GRANT RULEMAKING AUTHORITY TO THE EMPLOYMENT SECURITY DIVISION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRY TO ADOPT MINIMUM FEDERAL OFFSET REQUIREMENTS;"

3. Title, line 9.

Following: "MCA"

Insert: "; AND PROVIDING AN EFFECTIVE DATE"

4. Page 2, line 11.

Insert: "(4) For the purposes of subsection (1), the division shall, by rule, adopt minimum federal offset requirements as imposed by the federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, P. L. 94-566, as amended in 1980 by P. L. 96-364, and as may be amended after [the effective date of this act]."

Section 2. Effective date. This act is effective on passage and approval."

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 664

It is the intention of the legislature that filing fees for the dissolution of marriages fund a grant program administered by the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services for the benefit of the children of dissolved marriages. This bill requires a statement of intent because section 5 requires the adoption of administrative rules. It is the intent of the legislature that the rules adopted address the allocation of grant money, the criteria for grants mentioned in section 3, and the services authorized in section 4. In addition, the intent of the legislature is that no money from federal sources be used without matching money at the local level.

In adopting rules addressing the concerns mentioned above, the department should consider:

(1) a means of determining need, project merit, appropriate and adequate administrative design, and a means of determining what constitutes efficiency of administration, the criteria in section 3 of the bill for awarding grants;

(2) any other prerequisites considered necessary in addition to the criteria of section 3 for allocation of grant money; and

(3) detailing the approach envisioned in section 4 for the replacement of appropriate role models, the skills mentioned in section 4, and the nature of the educational programs relating to children of dissolved marriages, also mentioned in section 4.

AGRICULTURE, LIVESTOCK AND IRRIGATION (Smith, Chairman):

2/16/81

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent for HB 467:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 467

A statement of intent is required for House Bill 467 because it delegates rulemaking authority to the Director of Agriculture in sections 9, 10, and 12.

Section 9 says that the assessment on alfalfa seed must be paid at times the department would prescribe by rule. The rules should allow for administrative convenience for both the department and the growers. Section 10 allows the department to adopt rules relating to procedures for requesting a refund of an assessment under the act. Section 12 grants authority for the department to prescribe records that must be kept by alfalfa dealers as an aid in enforcing the provisions of the act. All such rules should be as simple and easily complied with as possible.

In that the purposes and structure of the Alfalfa Seed Industry Act are to a great degree analogous to the purposes and structure of the wheat research and marketing law, it is the intent of the Legislature that rules adopted should be similar in nature to those adopted under the wheat research and marketing law.

HB 740, do pass. Report adopted.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT
HOUSE BILL 740

A statement of intent is required for House Bill 740 because it delegates rulemaking authority to the Department of Livestock in section 3.

The purposes of the Montana Beef Research and Marketing Act are similar to those of the Montana Pork Research and Marketing Act and it is the intent of the Legislature that it be administered in a similar manner. Rules adopted under HB 740 should not be significantly different from those adopted under the Montana Pork Research and Marketing Act.

It is the further intent of the Legislature that the Department pursue the goals of the Act by expanding the research and marketing efforts that already exist. The Department should not establish any research unit or agency of its own but should carry out the purposes of the Act in cooperation with local, state, or national organizations, public or private, in carrying out all phases of research and marketing contemplated by the bill. The Legislature expects that most Montana research and marketing activity will be handled by the Montana Beef Council.

STATEMENT OF INTENT
HOUSE BILL 554

HB 554 requires a statement of intent because it requires the adoption of rules in section 6. It is the intent of the Legislature that the rules adopted cover the following subjects:

(1) details of continuing education requirements mentioned in section 5 of the bill;

(2) sufficient detail of internal operating procedures and rules governing proceedings before the board that a person required or desiring to deal with the board is on notice of what is expected of him, what the course of events will be, and what options are open to the applicant in dealing with the board;

(3) the criteria for the setting of professional, practice, and ethical standards for certified social workers and the means of determining and dealing with violations of those standards; and

(4) subjects reasonably related to the obvious intent of this bill or related to one of the above subjects, that are reasonably necessary rules which do not clearly exceed the authority of the bill or this statement of intent.

And, as amended, do pass. Report adopted.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 646

House Bill 646 generally clarifies the state laws relating to child day-care facilities. (Title 53, chapter 4, part 5)

Levels of care are specifically defined:

(1) Day-care center provides care for 13 or more children. (53-4-501, MCA)

(2) Group day-care home provides care for 7 to 12 children. (53-4-501, MCA)

(3) Family day-care home provides care for 6 or fewer children. (53-4-501, MCA)

The term “day-care facility” has been expanded to include all levels of care. (53-4-501, MCA)

House Bill 646 in sections 53-4-501 and 53-4-502, MCA, eliminates the requirement for family day-care homes to be licensed, and requires a provider to simply register with the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services that they comply with minimal state regulations for quality care.

Rulemaking authority. Although House Bill 646 amends 53-4-501 through 53-4-516, MCA, the present law does give the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services the authority for the purposes of Title 53, chapter 4, part 5, to license child day-care facilities and for rulemaking authority in relation to licensing. However, because of the new provisions in this act and the fact rules have not been revised since 1965, it is anticipated new rules will be promulgated.

Rules relating to licensing or registration will address the following areas:

(1) Family day-care homes — character, suitability, qualifications of applicants to care for children; programs and practices for health, safety, transportation, development; ages and numbers of children that may be cared for in a day-care facility.

(2) Group day-care homes and centers — including the above — numbers of staff required for adequate supervision; physical facilities and equipment; admission procedures; health supervision of staff, essential records, general financial ability and competence of an applicant to provide necessary care and maintain prescribed standards. Availability of public liability insurance and fire insurance is applicable to all levels of care. (53-4-508, MCA)

(3) Rules dealing with health and safety will be developed with the assistance of the Department of Health and Environmental Sciences. (53-4-506, MCA)

(4) Physical well-being and safety of the children in day-care facilities is provided by the state Fire Marshal who shall adopt standards for fire and life safety. (53-4-505, MCA)

It is the intention of the Legislature that the rates payable to a day-care facility under section 15 be set after the appropriation level has been determined by the Legislature.

(3) "Residential care facility" means a facility providing room and board and protective oversight, to the degree needed, to recipients of supplemental social security income benefits.

Section 3. Standards for residential care facilities. (1) The department may adopt rules establishing standards by which residential care facilities may be licensed. These standards may include but are not limited to those for:

- (a) admission policies;
- (b) safety;
- (c) sanitation;
- (d) protection of civil rights;
- (e) provision of facilities for the handicapped including wide hallways and grabrails;
- (f) inspections;
- (g) license applications;
- (h) warnings prior to license denial or revocation; and
- (i) waiver of standards.

(2) Those standards relating to sanitation and fire and life safety shall be adopted after consultation with the department of health and environmental sciences and the state fire marshal.

Section 4. Compliance with health care facility licensing laws. Nothing in this [act] shall be construed to relieve a person operating a residential care facility from the responsibility of complying with the applicable licensing laws governing health care facilities including skilled and intermediate long-term care facilities and personal care facilities provided for in Title 50, chapter 5, part 2."

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 686

A statement of intent is required for House Bill 686 because it authorizes the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services to adopt rules setting forth standards governing residential care facilities so that they may be licensed and their residents continue to be eligible to receive supplemental social security income benefits. It is the intent of this legislation that residential care facilities have standards set for them to insure the safety and health of their residents.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT

HOUSE BILL 642

The intent of HB 642 is to amend Section 75-2-202 of the Montana Clean Air Act in order to limit the authority of the Board of Health and Environmental Sciences to set standards regulating fluoride pollution.

HB 642 requires that an air quality standard be established for fluoride but that any such standard shall be established only in terms of concentrations of fluorides in forage grasses, hay, and silage.

By confining the fluoride standard to concentration in forage, the bill prevents the Board of Health and Environmental Sciences from adopting an air quality standard governing fluoride in its gaseous state (HF). Protection of coniferous trees, ornamental plants, and ecosystems from gaseous fluorides will be incidental to the prevention of excess levels of fluoride in forage grasses, hay, and silage.

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 697

A statement of intent is required for HB 697 because it delegates licensing and rulemaking authority in section 1 to the department of health and environmental sciences.

The bill requires a license to be obtained from the department. Prior to licensure, the department will provide the applicant with a list of state and federal laws applicable to suction dredge operations and ensure compliance with state law. The department will place restrictions on the license pursuant to its present authority under Title 75, chapter 5. The department may by rule develop a color scheme for licenses and require the license to contain information in addition to that in subsection (3) as aids to enforcement.

HOUSE BILL 717

A Statement of Intent is required because section 3 delegates to the Board of Dentistry power to make rules for the implementation, continuation, and enforcement of all sections within Title 37, chapter 4. This provision is intended as a backup to the various provisions giving the Board rulemaking authority over portions of the chapter as are found in 37-4-301 (examination criteria for dental license), 37-4-307 (dentist license fees), 37-4-321 (defining unprofessional conduct), 37-4-402 (examination criteria for dental hygienist license), 37-4-406 (hygienist license fees), and 37-4-408 (scope of duties of dental assistants). Section 3 grants the Board the authority to interpret or implement other parts of the chapter that are not covered by existing delegations. The Board shall be bound by statements of intent adopted in 1979 for these other sections and may not use section 3 for rulemaking authority when a more specific delegation suffices.

STATEMENT OF INTENT
HOUSE BILL 640

A statement of intent is required for House Bill 640 because it delegates rulemaking authority to the Montana agricultural development board in section 5.

The Legislature intends that the Board adopt all rules necessary to establish a sound program that will accomplish the purposes of the Montana Farm Preservation Act of 1981. In adopting loan rules, the Board should assure that loans granted will be large enough to provide necessary capital yet not so large as to support economically unsound practices. The economic viability of the beginning farmer or rancher under a loan should be of paramount importance.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT
HOUSE BILL 749

A statement of intent is required for this bill because it grants the Public Service Commission the authority to provide safety standards for motor vehicles used in commerce.

All interstate motor carriers, interstate private carriers, and carriers hauling unregulated commodities in interstate commerce must now meet equipment safety requirements and inspections as established by the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations of the Department of Transportation. In addition, regulated intrastate motor carriers must also meet the same safety standards.

The Legislature intends to include large over-the-road trucks, in excess of 26,000 pounds GVW, used in commerce operating on Montana's highways to adhere to safety equipment standards. It is the intent of the Legislature to establish by regulation uniform safety standards and a safety inspection program that will focus on mechanical factors most often blamed for accidents involving trucks, passenger carriers, and hazardous material transporters. Included would be detailed inspections of brakes, steering components, tires, and driver logs where required.

It is intended that rules promulgated by PSC incorporate the "Critical Item Truck Inspection" program and that the rules include a procedure for conducting the inspection program as well as providing for a vehicle identification program acknowledging the inspection. The rules shall provide that safety infractions posing no imminent threat to public safety shall not result in an "out of service" order. Such a vehicle shall be allowed to proceed to obtain repairs before final inspection and issuance of inspection acknowledgment. It is recognized that repairing or parking large over-the-road trucks on the roadway is extremely dangerous.

Section 2. Definitions. As used in [this act], the following definitions apply:

(1) "AFDC" means aid to families with dependent children, as defined in the federal Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 601 through 626.

(2) "Board" means the board of social and rehabilitation appeals provided for in 2-15-2203.

(6) "WIN" means the federal work incentive program provided for in 42 U.S.C. 630 through 644.

Section 3. Departments to establish program. The departments shall work jointly to establish a program in which an employable or potentially employable person may be required to participate as a condition of eligibility for AFDC payments. AFDC payments shall continue to be paid to such a person by the same agencies authorized to make such payments prior to [the effective date of this act], pursuant to Title 53, chapter 4, and regulations under WIN. The departments may jointly or individually enter into agreements with governmental units or agencies or nonprofit agencies to establish projects to effectuate this program. The departments shall, to the extent practicable, establish the program on a statewide basis.

Section 4. Exemptions. A person may be exempt from mandatory participation in the program if he is:

- (1) under 16 years of age;
- (2) enrolled in and attending school full time when attendance is appropriate and 16 but not yet 21 years of age;
- (3) ill or significantly and substantially incapacitated if it has been determined by the department, on the basis of medical evidence or on another sound basis, that the illness or incapacitation is serious enough to temporarily or permanently prevent the person from engaging in a work experience or training project;
- (4) the caretaker in the home of a household member who requires the person's presence in the home on a substantially continuous basis as determined by a physician or a licensed or certified psychologist. Only one member of a household may claim this exemption.
- (5) the mother, the father, or other caretaker relative of a child under the age of 6. Only one member of a household may claim this exemption.
- (6) 65 years of age or older; or
- (7) for any other reason exempt from participating in the WIN program pursuant to federal regulations.

Section 5. Suitability of project. A project established under [this act] may not be used to supplant or perform any work ordinarily performed by:

- (1) a regular employee, whether paid or voluntary; or
- (2) a regular employee whose position is vacant due to a labor strike or a lockout currently in active progress.

Section 6. Disqualification from public assistance — right of appeal. (1) If the departments or their authorized designees determine that a person required to participate in the program has failed or refused to do so or has failed to comply with the rules established under [section 7], that person, upon written notice by one of the departments or its authorized designee, shall be disqualified from receiving AFDC payments. The termination of AFDC payments for any person may not affect AFDC payments or any other form of public assistance received by other members of the same household.

(2) Upon written notification of disqualification, an affected person may appeal to:

(a) the board for a fair hearing, pursuant to Title 53, chapter 2, part 6; or

(b) the department of labor and industry for redress under the WIN adjudication process, pursuant to CFR part 56 and 45 CFR part 1398.

Section 7. Adoption of rules. (1) The departments jointly shall adopt rules for:

(a) the determination of suitable projects;

(b) the determination of employability;

(c) registration and participation in the program;

(d) the determination of disqualification for AFDC payments and subsequent reeligibility of persons who fail to comply with the provisions of [this act] and rules adopted under [it];

(e) reporting and other responsibilities of the sponsoring project;

(f) hearing procedures required under [section 6], and the determination of which appeal process is appropriate for the recipient; and

(g) the administration of the program and the delegation of responsibilities between the departments.

Section 8. Compliance with federal requirements authorized. The departments are authorized to comply with such federal requirements and to adopt such methods of administration as may be necessary under WIN or similar federal programs to obtain federal funds in the maximum amount and most advantageous proportion possible.

Section 9. Departments to make recommendations. The departments shall make recommendations to the 48th legislature as to the feasibility of expanding the program to include recipients of other forms of public assistance. The departments' recommendations may be accompanied by suggested legislation necessary to implement the recommendations made.

Section 10. Conflict with federal law. If any portion of the program is found to conflict with federal law or rules, that portion may be suspended."

And, as amended, do pass. Report adopted.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 258

A statement of intent is required for this bill because it delegates rulemaking authority to the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services and to the Department of Labor and Industry in section 7.

It is intended that the Departments adopt rules similar to those used under the WIN program, unless the Departments determine that more efficient procedures can be established which do not interfere with obtaining federal funds in the maximum amount and most advantageous proportion possible.

It is the intent of subsection (1)(b) of section 7 that the Departments establish procedures for a recipient to prove qualification under the exemptions of section 4.

It is the intent of subsection (1)(c) of section 7 that the Departments prescribe procedural rules for applications for project placement, time deadlines, attendance requirements for project participants, guidelines for lines of authority, and related personnel matters. The Departments should provide AFDC recipients with general information regarding the program's structure and the consequences of a person's refusal to participate in the program.

It is the intent of subsection (1)(e) of section 7 that the Departments require the sponsoring project to complete attendance reports and to provide meaningful job supervision. The Departments should clarify, in the agreement with the sponsoring project, who will be responsible for materials, equipment, and tools necessary to participate in the project.

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 578

A statement of intent is required for HB 578 in that it delegates rulemaking authority to the governor in Section 5.

1. Subsection (1) of section 5 provides that the governor has the power to direct changes in license administration, consistent with law. The governor may direct certain changes based on the recommendation of the small business license coordination center. The duties of the small business license coordination center are set forth in section 4 of this bill. As a point of clarity, the governor's authority to direct changes in executive agencies already exists. It is not intended that subsection (1) of section 5 delegate new authority or additional power to the governor.

2. In subsection (2) of section 5, the governor is authorized to adopt rules to change the license renewal period or expiration date of any license. This authority has been delegated to the governor in order to realize the primary goal of this legislation. Presently, any one business may require more than one license that expires on different dates. The intent of this bill is to create a uniform licensing procedure if possible, to eliminate unnecessary steps if the applicant could apply for more than one license at one time. If the objectives of consistency and uniformity are to be met, it is imperative that the governor have the power to change license expiration and renewal dates. Any rule adopted that relates to changing the expiration of renewal date of a license shall be consistent with the provisions of the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 798

A statement of intent is required for this bill because it grants rulemaking authority.

Section 5(3) of the bill authorizes the Montana economic development authority to adopt all procedural and substantive rules necessary for the administration of the act.

It is intended that these rules deal with the terms of loans, forms for loan applications, sale of bonds, internal management of the authority's business, procedures for servicing loans by financial institutions, procedures for acquiring and disposing of property, and establishing reserve requirements.

Section 5(21) requires the authority to designate "primary industries", which are to be given preference for loans.

It is intended that primary industries be commercial, manufacturing, agricultural, industrial, transportation, recreational, and tourist enterprises.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 278

(1) A statement of intent is required for this bill because it grants rulemaking authority to the Department of Natural Resources and Conservation in section 3.

(2) Not contemplated in this act is the use of grants where other funds may be available or for the use of specific energy saving applications. The grants are to be awarded for the analysis of a community's energy use, so that by viewing the community as an energy use system the community may comprehensively address its energy efficiency and hence effectively allocate its resources where they will provide the greatest good.

(3) The authority delegated to the Department of Natural Resources and Conservation by House Bill 278 is for the purpose of establishing the procedure for submitting applications for grants under the act and establishing the review procedure and criteria under which the department will determine the sufficiency of applications and the award of grants.

HB 307, do pass. Report adopted.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT
HOUSE BILL 307

A statement of intent is required for House Bill 307 because it delegates rulemaking authority to the Board of Health and Environmental Sciences for making grants to local governments for the purchase of solid waste management capital equipment. The bill provides the terms of agreement for grants between the department and local governments. It then provides rulemaking authority for eligibility standards and application and award procedures in making capital equipment grants.

It should be noted that Montana in the past has adopted regulatory provisions (Title 16, chapter 14, subchapter 1) which provide for the application procedures required for the issuance of planning grants and organizational loans. House Bill 307 will allow the Board of Health and Environmental Sciences to adopt additional rules establishing the procedures required for the department to issue implementation grants to local governments.

Under House Bill 307, the Board of Health and Environmental Sciences will also have the authority to revise existing administrative rules in the area of solid waste grants. These revisions will be needed to allow the department to issue implementation grants to local governments. Thus, the state will be able to pass through implementation funds pursuant to adopted rules, as they become available, to local governments for purposes of establishing waste management systems.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 764

House Bill 764 requires a statement of intent because it requires the department of health and environmental sciences to adopt certain rules to implement the provisions of the bill.

It is the intent of the legislature to fund regional emergency medical services (EMS) programs and activities as parts of a statewide EMS system. It is the intent of this act to improve training opportunities available to EMS providers. The legislature does not intend that rules be adopted which impose additional requirements upon hospitals, ambulance services, or other EMS providers.

It is the further intent of the legislature that the funds appropriated by the state be used to replace federal funds no longer available for the development of training and technical assistance to EMS providers, including volunteers who would have great difficulty in obtaining training otherwise.

The legislature also intends that the rules implement the bill in a way that minimizes the administrative costs while maximizing the provision of training and support to the regional and local providers. This will assure the very best use of state funds. Also, it is the intent that the rules adopted should act primarily to facilitate the implementation of the program. The major concern of both state and regional programs is to assist and enhance current emergency medical services.

It is the intent of the legislature that rules be adopted in the following areas: (A) concerning the contracts with the department of health, (B) defining the roles and responsibilities of the state and the regions, (C) addressing uniform training programs, (D) concerning the EMS advisory council, and (E) governing the allocation of funds.

(A). Rules adopted concerning contracts with the department of health are intended:

- (1) to state the frequency and type of training programs to be offered;
- (2) to assure that the training programs are consistent with statewide standards and practice;
- (3) to set a salary schedule consistent with the state pay plan;
- (4) to assure that regional councils are broadly representative of EMS providers and consumers; and
- (5) to assure that regional councils are responsible for personnel policies and management.

(B). Rules adopted concerning the definition of the roles and responsibilities of the state and the regions should, at the minimum, address:

- (1) the training of EMS providers;
- (2) fiscal administration; and
- (3) prevention of duplication of efforts among state, regional, and local levels.

(C). Rules adopted concerning uniform training programs should address:

- (1) the assurance of uniform training programs offered for instructors, coordinators, and students; and
- (2) the provision of training programs in a readily accessible way for providers, coordinators, and instructors who choose to take such training.

(D). Rules adopted concerning the EMS advisory council should, at the least:

- (1) maximize input from the regions, the EMS providers, and from the consumers; and
- (2) provide significant policy direction to the department in the establishment of statewide programs and goals.

(E). Rules adopted concerning the allocation of funds should, as a minimum:

- (1) in addition to the rules adopted on contracts, assure fair and equitable distribution of all funds among the EMS regions; and
- (2) assure allocation in a way that maximizes the provision of training and support services while keeping administration costs to a minimum.

And, as amended, do pass. Report adopted.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 652

A statement of intent is required for this bill because it delegates certain rulemaking and licensing authority to the department of health and environmental sciences and the department of state lands. House Bill No. 652 is intended to enable Montana to exercise licensing and enforcement authority over the disposal of "byproduct material" in the state. This enabling legislation, in the form of amendments to Montana's existing radiation control statutes and to Initiative 84, approved by the voters in November, 1980, would conform Montana's statutes to the pattern of federal regulation of these materials under the federal Uranium Mill Tailings Radiation Control Act of 1978 (P. L. 95-604).

States may exercise regulatory authority over byproduct material disposal by obtaining "agreement status" with the federal government. House Bill 652 amends Section 75-3-201(3)(c) to clarify that the scope of the department of health's rulemaking power extends to and covers the new responsibilities conferred by the bill. The bill also allows the department of state lands to provide for licensing and permitting for reclamation purposes or uranium and thorium mills and tailing disposal sites according to Title 82, chapter 4, and 75-3-202. The department of state lands may also promulgate standards for the reclamation of disposal sites according to Title 82, chapter 4, and [section 7]. The standards and requirements to be adopted by the department of health and environmental sciences and by the department of state lands shall be sufficient to fully protect the public without posing an impediment to rational and controlled development.

HB 758, do pass. Report adopted.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 811

The Vocational Rehabilitation Division of the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services administers the "renal disease treatment" program authorized by Title 53, chapter 6, part 2, MCA. The department's authority to adopt rules for the program under the current statutory provisions is only implied. This legislation would grant express rulemaking authority to the department. By that authority the department could adopt rules controlling the eligibility of applicants and the nature of the renal medical services provided.

This legislation provides that eligibility would be predicated on actual need for the financial assistance. Those persons who have adequate financial resources, medical insurance coverage, or who are eligible for other public programs providing financial resources for medical needs would not be eligible for the benefits of this program. At the time the act was passed in 1975, other sources of financial assistance were limited in number and nature. Since that time the development and expansion of other programs has resulted in almost all recipients of service in this state-funded program being eligible for assistance from the Federal Medical programs. The eligibility criteria added by this legislation will insure that the participants in the program are those who most deserve to benefit from the program.

This legislation in limiting expenditures to that appropriated currently for the program will insure that the state does not assume financial responsibilities beyond its capability to do so.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent for HB 385:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 385

A statement of intent is required for House Bill 385 to explain the purpose of the legislature in approving the increase in the fee for filing of annual report by health service corporations. This bill raises the fee for each individual or family unit covered, from 20 cents to 50 cents, to finance the performance audits required on each health service corporation at least once every 4 years and to carry out other duties imposed on the Insurance Department. The Insurance Department estimates it will require one additional FTE plus a necessary appropriation to cover additional related costs such as actuarial fees, travel expenses, office space, benefits and office equipment for the FTE. The intention of the legislature is to collect the increase in the fee only if the additional FTE and appropriation are authorized.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent:

STATEMENT OF INTENT HOUSE BILL 762

It is the intent of the legislature in enacting this legislation that the department shall establish the qualifying criterion for a lending institution to participate in the program established by this act. The criterion will be based upon the ratio of the institution's loans to Montana businesses to its total assets. The purpose of the criterion is to insure that those institutions with low ratios will not gain the advantages of this program.

In addition, the act requires the department to establish criteria for evaluation of a participating institution's lending portfolio. The purpose of this evaluation is to encourage investment by the lending institutions in such a way that the Montana economy is stabilized and strengthened. It is the purpose of these criteria to guarantee that the public funds being invested will be directed to those institutions with the best record of making such investments.

Committee adopted the following Statement of Intent for HB 755:

STATEMENT OF INTENT
HOUSE BILL 755

A statement of intent is required for this bill because it delegates rulemaking authority to the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services in section 5, in part for the purpose of adopting a formula for distributing money to the counties and reservations for the aging programs.

The legislature intends that money distributed to each county and reservation for social services pursuant to Title IIIB of the federal Older Americans Act must not be reduced to an amount less than that received by the county or reservation in the federal FY 81.

Available money for social services in addition to the amount received by the counties and reservations in the federal FY 81 must be distributed to the counties and reservations using the following formula:

(1) 60% of the funds distributed must be based on the population of people in the county or on the reservation who are 60 years of age and older;

(2) 20% of the funds distributed must be based on the minority population in the county or on the reservation who are 60 years of age and older; and

(3) 20% of the funds distributed must be based on the low-income population in the county or on the reservation who are 60 years of age and older.

Money distributed to each county or reservation for nutrition projects under Title IIIC<sub>1</sub> or IIIC<sub>2</sub> of the federal Older Americans Act must not be reduced to an amount less than that received by the county or reservation in the federal FY 78.

Available money for the nutrition projects in addition to the amount received in the federal FY 78 must be distributed to the counties and reservations using the same formula as described above for social services.

The first, which includes fire department relief associations, applies to cities other than those of the first or second class that wish to adopt it. The second, created by [sections 1 through 53], applies to cities of the first or second class and those other cities that wish to adopt it. The

(2) Title 19, chapter 11, may not be applied in any way to a city operating under the plan created by [sections 1 through 53] except as otherwise provided.

NEW SECTION. Section 3. Retirement system established. A firefighters' unified retirement system is established and governed by the provisions of [sections 1 through 53].

(11) "Member contributions" means the total of the deductions from a member's compensation made during a period of active membership under [sections 1 through 53] or made under a prior plan and transferred to this plan, standing to his credit, together with the interest thereon.

(12) "Membership service" means a period of employment with an employer occurring after July 1, 1981, during which the withholdings required by [sections 1 through 53] have been made from a

(b) for a part-paid firefighter employed by a city of the second class, 15% of the average regular monthly compensation, excluding overtime, holiday payments, shift differential payments, compensatory time payments, and payments in lieu of sick leave, paid to all newly confirmed, active firefighters employed by cities of the second class on July 1 of each year.

(15) Any reference to "municipality", "city", or "town" includes those jurisdictions which, prior to the effective date of a county-municipal consolidation, were incorporated municipalities, subsequent districts created for urban firefighting services, or the entire county included in the county-municipal consolidation.

(16) "Part-paid firefighter" means a person employed under 7-33-4109 who receives compensation in excess of $300 a year for his service as a firefighter.

(17) "Plan" means the municipal firefighters' retirement system created by [sections 1 through 53].

(18) "Prior plan" means the fire department relief association plan of a city that elects to join the plan under [section 8] or the fire department relief association plan of a city of the first or second class.

(19) "Prior service" means a period of employment as a firefighter for which credit was granted to a member under a prior plan and has been transferred to this plan.

(20) "Retirement allowance" means the monthly benefit payable after service or disability retirement.

(21) "Retirement date" means the date on which the first payment of the retirement or disability benefits of a member or a beneficiary is payable.

(22) "Totally and permanently disabled" means that the board, upon certification by a licensed and practicing physician, has determined that a member's disability is of such a nature as to permanently impair his ability to discharge his normal duties as a firefighter.

NEW SECTION. Section 5. Participation in plan by first- and second-class cities. Cities of the first and second class that employ full-paid firefighters must participate in the plan. If a city of the first or second class is reduced to a city of the third class or a town under 7-1-4118, it must continue to participate in the plan as long as it has retired firefighters or beneficiaries eligible to receive retirement benefits.

NEW SECTION. Section 6. Transfer of assets and liabilities from prior plans. All funds and obligations constituting the assets and liabilities of prior plans, regardless of their form or who holds them, must be transferred to the account provided for in [section 22]. The board shall determine the amounts to be apportioned to each account on [the effective date of this section], and the department of administration and the boards of trustees of the fire department relief associations shall transfer such amounts to the appropriate accounts on July 1, 1981.

NEW SECTION. Section 7. Effect on members of prior plans. A firefighter hired before July 1, 1981, who was a member of a prior plan and who becomes a member of this plan retains all rights and benefits accrued under a prior plan.

NEW SECTION. Section 8. Election to join plan — transfer of assets. (1) Except for cities with only volunteer firefighters, a city other than one described in [section 5] may, after July 1, 1981, elect to join the plan by passing an ordinance stating the election and the consent of the city to be bound by the provisions of [sections 1 through 53]. The fire department relief association of the city may pass a resolution to the same effect. Upon the enactment of the ordinance and passage of the resolution, the provisions of [sections 1 through 53] become applicable to the city. Any city that enacts such an ordinance and in which the fire department relief association passes such a resolution shall send certified copies thereof to the board and shall, as soon as possible thereafter, deposit with the board all cash and securities held by its fire department relief association. The value of the securities shall be determined by the board.

(2) The board of trustees of the fire department relief association as of the effective date of the election shall certify the proportion, if any, of the funds of the association that represents the accumulated contributions of the active members and the relative shares of the members as of that date. Following the transfer of the cash and securities required by subsection (1) and the certification required by this subsection, the fire department relief association may conclude its affairs. The shares of the members shall be charged to the employer and credited to the respective individual accounts of the members in the plan and administered as if the contributions had been made during membership in the plan. Any excess of employer credits over charges under this section will be offset, with interest, against future required employer contributions. Any excess of employer charges over credits under this section are payable by the employer, with interest, on a basis determined by the procedure described in [section 24].

NEW SECTION. Section 9. Penalty for fraud. (1) No person may knowingly make any false statement or permit to be falsified any records of the plan in an attempt to defraud the plan.

(2) A person who violates any of the provisions of subsection (1) is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding 6 months, or both.

NEW SECTION. Section 10. Firemen's association to advise board — payment to the association from fund. (1) The Montana state firemen's association shall serve as an advisor to the board and may meet quarterly with the board to discuss matters relating to the administration of [sections 1 through 53]. The association may review all medical and legal information available to the board relating to service, disability, and survivorship benefits for members of the plan.

(2) In June of each year, the association shall receive annually from the fund an amount equal to  $\frac{1}{5}$  of 1% of the annual compensation paid to active members of the plan to defray expenses incurred by the association when representing members of the plan.

NEW SECTION. Section 11. Power and duties of board. The powers and duties of the board include:

(1) administering, interpreting, and enforcing the provisions of [sections 1 through 53];

(2) establishing uniform rules to administer the provisions of [sections 1 through 53];

(3) determining the conditions under which persons may become members of and receive benefits under the retirement system; and

(4) determining allowances for retirement and disability under [sections 1 through 53].

NEW SECTION. Section 12. Department to provide forms — information from employers. The department of administration shall prepare such forms as it finds necessary for the employers to complete to provide all the information necessary to administer [sections 1 through 53], and the cities shall give the department of administration all data necessary to carry out the purpose and intent of [sections 1 through 53].

NEW SECTION. Section 13. Administrative expenses. (1) The expense of administering [sections 1 through 53], exclusive of the payment of retirement allowances and other benefits, may be paid from the fund.

(2) Before July 15 of each year, the board may compute the administrative costs for the immediately preceding fiscal year and transfer that amount from the fund to the public employees' retirement system account in the agency fund.

NEW SECTION. Section 14. Active membership. (1) A full-paid firefighter becomes an active member under the plan:

(a) on the first day of his employment by an employer;

(b) on July 1, 1981, if he is employed by an employer on that date; or

(c) in the case of an employer that elects to join the plan as provided in [section 8], on the effective date of such election if he is employed by the employer on that date.

(2) Upon becoming eligible for membership, he shall complete the forms and furnish any proof required by the board.

(3) A part-paid firefighter may elect to become a member of the plan by filing a membership application with the board.

NEW SECTION. Section 15. Ineligibility for other retirement plans. No active member is eligible to be covered under any other mandatory retirement plan for firefighters to which an employer is required to contribute on his behalf while he is eligible to be covered by this plan.

NEW SECTION. Section 16. Inactive membership. (1) An active member becomes an inactive member upon the occurrence of the earlier of the following:

(a) the date he ceases to be employed by an employer and becomes entitled to a retirement allowance;

(b) the 31st day of an approved absence from active duty with an employer.

(2) An inactive member becomes an active member on the day he returns to active duty with an employer. Upon again becoming an active member, his retirement allowance, if any, shall cease being paid to him until he again becomes an inactive member.

NEW SECTION. Section 17. Termination of employment prior to retirement. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), an active member shall withdraw the amount of his member contributions, plus regular interest as determined by the board, in lieu of all other benefits under the plan upon his termination of employment prior to his retirement. If an active member's employment terminates by reason of his death, his beneficiaries are entitled to the benefits prescribed in [section 44].

(2) If a member has 10 years or more of creditable service before termination, he may keep his contributions on deposit and be eligible for a service retirement at age 50.

NEW SECTION. Section 18. Cessation of membership. A member shall cease to be a member upon the occurrence of the earlier of the following:

(1) the date he withdraws his member contributions in lieu of all other benefits under the plan;

(2) the date of his death.

NEW SECTION. Section 19. Credited service to be cumulative. A member is entitled to benefits upon the entire period of his credited service without regard to the number of employers by whom he was employed or the number of periods of his employment so that no duplication of credited service occurs.

NEW SECTION. Section 20. Military service. (1) A firefighter inducted into the armed forces of the United States may:

(a) continue his payments into the account during his military service; or

(b) within 2 years after his return to active firefighter status, contribute to the account an amount equal to the membership contributions that he would have made had he been a firefighter during the time of his military service.

(2) If a member chooses one of the options in subsection (1) and meets its requirements, he shall receive credit for his service in the armed forces of the United States as if it were service as a firefighter.

NEW SECTION. Section 21. Election to qualify previous military service. (1) A member with 15 years or more of service may, at any time prior to his retirement, make a written election with the board to qualify all or any portion of his active service in the armed forces of the United States for the purpose of calculating retirement benefits, up to a maximum of 5 years, if he is not otherwise eligible to receive credit. To qualify this service he must contribute to the account the actuarial cost of granting the service to be determined by the board based on his compensation and normal contribution rate as of his 16th year and as many succeeding years as are required to qualify this service, with interest from the date he becomes eligible for this benefit to the date he contributes. He may not qualify more of his military service than he has service in excess of 15 years. Military service purchased under this section may not be used in determining eligibility for a service retirement requiring a minimum of 10 years of service.

(2) If a member has retired from active duty in the armed forces of the United States with normal service retirement benefits, he may not qualify his military service under subsection (1). However, a member who is serving or has served in the military reserves with the expectation of receiving a military service pension may qualify his active military service under subsection (1) if his active duty in the armed forces of the United States is not more than 25% of the total of all his years of military service, including reserve and active duty time.

NEW SECTION. Section 22. Retirement account. Beginning July 1, 1981, an account in the agency fund shall be maintained on behalf of the plan. The state treasurer is the custodian of the account subject to the exclusive administrative control of the board.

NEW SECTION. Section 23. Management of funds by department of administration. Except as otherwise provided in [sections 1 through 53], the department of administration, through the administrator and the board of investments, shall administer, invest, account for, and treat the funds deposited with it under [sections 1 through 53] according to the rules addressing the public employees' retirement system, insofar as these rules are not inconsistent with those promulgated and adopted by the board. The contributions of the state, employers, and members paid to the administrator under [sections 1 through 53] may be commingled for investment purposes.

NEW SECTION. Section 24. Unfunded liabilities. (1) The legislature finds and declares that many cities operating under prior plans have excess and unfunded liabilities, and the liabilities cannot be amortized by the percentage contributions set forth in [sections 1 through 53].

(2) The administrator shall, on or before October 1, 1984, determine the excess and unfunded liability of each city participating in the plan created by [sections 1 through 53]. The determination must be negotiated between each city and the administrator. Each city determined by the administrator to have an excess and unfunded liability under a prior plan that, as of July 1, 1984, is not funded by sums on deposit or funds available for deposit with the administrator shall pay an additional sum over a period of time to amortize its excess liability as determined by agreement between the city and the administrator.

(3) Each city determined by the administrator to be paying an amount in excess of the amount necessary to amortize its liabilities under the prior plan and under [sections 1 through 53] shall receive a credit in the accounts of the administrator for the excess payments.

(4) For each city with an unfunded liability, any portion of the member, employer, and state contributions that exceeds the amount necessary to maintain the current level of unfunded liability must be applied to the reduction of the unfunded liability.

NEW SECTION. Section 25. Actuarial valuation. The board shall engage the services of a qualified actuary to conduct an actuarial valuation of the plan in each even-numbered year. It shall include the actuary's determination of the financial condition of the plan, the level of annual contributions required to maintain the plan on an actuarially sound basis, and if applicable, the level of annual contributions required to amortize the excess and unfunded liabilities described in [section 24]. A qualified actuary is one who is a member of the American academy of actuaries or of any organization considered by the board to have similar standards.

NEW SECTION. Section 26. Transfer of dormant member account. The board may, in its discretion, transfer member contributions to the employer's account if the member's contribution account has been dormant for a period of 10 years. No right of the member may be jeopardized by such a transfer, and the member contributions shall be transferred back to the member's name upon his subsequent reinstatement as an active member.

NEW SECTION. Section 27. Member contributions. The treasurer or other appropriate official of each employer shall retain from the monthly compensation of each active member a sum equal to 7% of his monthly compensation for his services as a firefighter. The monthly deduction from the salaries of firefighters shall be paid to the administrator for the purpose of paying the retirement allowances of retired firefighters and to defray expenses of the Montana state firemen's association as provided in [section 10].

NEW SECTION. Section 28. Vesting and withdrawal of contributions. A member is at all times fully vested in the deductions made from his compensation as a member or as a member of a prior plan standing to his credit and may, at his discretion, withdraw the full amount of these deductions upon his termination of employment in accordance with [section 17] and forfeit all rights and interest with respect to any benefits that would otherwise become payable under the plan.

NEW SECTION. Section 29. Redeposit of amounts withdrawn upon reinstatement. (1) Upon reinstatement to active membership, a member may redeposit in the fund, in one lump sum or in installments not to exceed 12 monthly or 24 semimonthly installments, an amount equal to the member contributions that he withdrew plus an amount equal to the interest that would have been credited to his account had he not withdrawn his member contributions. If a member makes such a redeposit, his credited service shall be reinstated.

(2) If an active member does not elect to make the redeposit provided for in subsection (1), he forfeits his credited service for the period attributable to the withdrawn member contributions.

NEW SECTION. Section 30. State contribution. The state shall make its contributions through the state auditor from the premium taxes on the insurance risks enumerated in 19-11-512. These payments shall be made annually to the administrator after the end of each fiscal year but no later than September 1 from the gross premium taxes after deduction for cancellations and returned premiums. The administrator shall notify the auditor of the annual compensation, excluding overtime, holiday payments, shift differential payments, compensatory time payments, and payments in lieu of sick leave, paid to all active members during the preceding year, and the state's contribution is 18% of this compensation. As soon as practicable after receipt of the state contribution, the administrator shall deposit it with the state treasurer.

NEW SECTION. Section 31. Employer contribution. Each employer shall make its contribution on behalf of members through the city treasurer or other appropriate official from money available to the city for this purpose. Effective July 1, 1981, the employer's contribution is 12% of the total monthly compensation paid to all active members during the preceding month. This contribution shall increase to 15% effective July 1, 1982, and to 18% effective July 1, 1983. All contributions are payable monthly to the administrator who shall, as soon as practicable after their receipt, deposit them with the state treasurer.

NEW SECTION. Section 32. Taxing authority of employers. (1) For the purpose of making contributions required of a city under [sections 1 through 53], whenever the demand for deposits of such contributions cannot be met within the general taxing authority and other revenues available to the city for that purpose, the appropriate authority of the city may levy any additional tax authorized by law until the general taxing authority and other revenue available for that purpose is sufficient to meet the demand.

(2) "General taxing authority", as used in this section, means that levy which the city may make under the all-purpose levy or under multiple-purpose levies, if the city is using multiple-purpose levies.

(3) No provision of any statute relating to the all-purpose levy may be so construed as to limit the additional taxing authority created by this section.

NEW SECTION. Section 33. Other money credited as employer contributions. All gifts, bequests, and emoluments given to an employer or member for the benefit of the plan or because of any member's service as a firefighter, except when specifically allowed to be retained by the member by his employer, shall be paid to the administrator. The administrator shall credit them to the fund and, as soon as practicable after their receipt, deposit them with the state treasurer. Such amounts are employer contributions but are in addition to the amounts required by [section 31].

NEW SECTION. Section 34. Eligibility for service retirement. The following members are eligible for service retirement:

(1) a member who has reached age 50 and has completed 10 years or more in the aggregate as a firefighter in any capacity or rank;

(2) a member who has reached mandatory retirement age under [section 35] regardless of his number of years of service.

NEW SECTION. Section 35. Mandatory retirement. (1) An active member must retire on the first day of the month coinciding with or immediately following, if none coincides, the date on which he reaches age 65.

(2) A member who reaches mandatory retirement age may not be allowed creditable service for services rendered after the mandatory retirement date or contribute to the retirement system after this date.

NEW SECTION. Section 36. Application for service retirement. On or after a member's minimum retirement date and prior to his mandatory retirement date, he may retire on a service retirement allowance by making written application to the employer. The employer shall forward the application to the board not less than 30 days or more than 90 days before the elected retirement date. The application shall state the elected retirement date.

NEW SECTION. Section 37. Amount of retirement allowance.

(1) (a) A member hired before July 1, 1981, who is eligible under [subsection (1) of section 34] and who elects to retire after completing 20 years of service and reaching age 50 as an active firefighter shall receive a service retirement allowance equal to one-half the monthly compensation last received by the member for his service as an active firefighter. A member who completes more than 20 years of service shall receive an additional 1% of his final monthly compensation for each year in excess of 20, up to a maximum of 60% of the monthly compensation last received by the member.

(b) A member hired before July 1, 1981, who is eligible under [subsection (1) of section 34] and who elects to retire after completing 10 years or more of service but has not both completed 20 years of service and reached age 50 as an active firefighter shall receive a service retirement allowance equal to 2% of the monthly compensation last received by the member for each year of service up to a maximum of 60% of his final monthly salary.

(i) If the member dies after he is permanently separated from service and before he both reaches age 50 and completes 20 years of service as an active firefighter, the allowance prescribed in subsection (1)(b) must be made to the surviving spouse beginning on the date the firefighter would have both reached his 50th birthday and completed 20 years of service as an active firefighter and terminating upon the surviving spouse's death or remarriage. If there is no surviving spouse or if the surviving spouse dies or remarries and if the firefighter leaves one or more dependent children, the children are entitled to receive the allowance as long as they remain dependent as defined in [section 4].

(ii) If the firefighter dies after he both reaches age 50 and completes 20 years of service as an active firefighter, the payments must be made to the surviving spouse or children as provided in subsection (1)(b)(i).

(2) A member hired on or after July 1, 1981, who:

(a) is eligible under [subsection (1) of section 34] shall receive a service retirement allowance equal to 2% of his final average salary for each year of service up to a maximum of 30 years of service;

(b) is eligible under [subsection (2) of section 34] shall receive a service retirement allowance equal to one-half his final average salary;

(c) is retired under [subsection (2) of section 34] and who was theretofore eligible at his option to be retired under [subsection (1) of section 34] but elected to serve additional years shall be paid for the additional years over his original eligibility at the rate prescribed in subsection (2)(a).

NEW SECTION. Section 38. Board's determination of disability. The board shall determine whether a member has become totally and permanently disabled. In making this determination, the board, any board member, or any authorized representative of the board may order medical examinations, conduct hearings, administer oaths and affirmations, take depositions, certify to official acts, and issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, and documents considered necessary as evidence in connection with the claim for disability retirement. The board shall secure medical service and advice necessary to carry out the purposes of this section and shall pay compensation for those medical services and advice.

NEW SECTION. Section 39. Eligibility for disability retirement. If a member is determined by the board to be totally and permanently disabled, he is entitled to receive a disability retirement allowance, regardless of the length of his service, beginning the first day after the date on which he became totally and permanently disabled.

NEW SECTION. Section 40. Amount of disability retirement allowance. (1) A member hired before July 1, 1981, who is eligible under [section 39]:

(a) before completing 20 years of service shall receive a disability retirement allowance equal to one-half the monthly compensation last received by the member for his services as an active firefighter;

(b) after completing 20 years or more of service shall receive the disability retirement allowance provided in subsection (1)(a) increased at a rate of 1% for each year in excess of 20, up to a maximum of 60% of the monthly compensation last received by the member.

(2) A member hired on or after July 1, 1981, who is eligible under [section 39]:

(a) before completing 25 years of service shall receive a disability retirement allowance equal to one-half his final average salary;

(b) after completing 25 years or more of service shall receive the disability retirement allowance provided in subsection (2)(a) increased at a rate of 2% for each year in excess of 25, up to a maximum of 5 years of additional service.

NEW SECTION. Section 41. Medical examination of disability retiree — cancellation of allowance. (1) The board in its discretion may require the recipient of a disability retirement allowance to undergo a medical examination at the board's expense. The examination must be made by a physician or surgeon at the recipient's place of residence or at another place mutually agreed on. Based on the results of the examination, the board shall determine whether the recipient has the physical or mental capacity to perform the duties required by his position. If the board determines that the recipient is not incapacitated or if the recipient refuses to submit to a medical examination, his disability retirement allowance shall be canceled. The board shall notify the recipient of this determination and the cancellation of his allowance.

(2) The cancellation of a disability allowance because a member is no longer incapacitated does not prejudice any right of the member to a service retirement benefit.

NEW SECTION. Section 42. Reinstatement upon termination of allowance. (1) (a) An inactive member whose disability retirement allowance is canceled as provided in [section 41] shall be reinstated to the position held by him immediately before his retirement or to a position in the same classification with duties within his capacity if an appropriate vacancy exists within his fire department. The board shall advise the employer that the disability retirement allowance has been canceled and that the inactive member is eligible for reinstatement to duty. The fact that he was retired for disability may not prejudice any right to reinstatement to duty which the inactive member may have or claim to have.

(b) If no appropriate vacancy exists within an inactive member's fire department when his disability allowance is canceled under [section 41], his allowance must be reinstated until a vacancy occurs.

(2) The city may request a medical or psychological review as to the ability of the member to return to work as a firefighter. If the board's findings are upheld, the city shall pay the costs of the review.

(3) If the inactive member again becomes an active member by returning to active work for an employer within 30 days following his receipt of notice under [section 41], he shall be considered to have been continuously employed during the term of his disability. If the inactive member fails to become an active member by returning to active work for an employer within 30 days following receipt of this notice, his termination of employment shall be considered to have occurred as of his disability retirement date and the retirement allowance, if any, to which he becomes entitled on his service retirement shall be determined accordingly.

NEW SECTION. Section 43. Payment of service or disability allowance upon death of member. A member's service or disability allowance shall be paid first to the member during his lifetime and, upon his death, to his surviving spouse as long as such spouse remains unmarried. If upon a member's death he leaves no surviving spouse, or upon the death or remarriage of a surviving spouse, his allowance shall be paid to his dependent children as long as they remain dependent as defined in [section 4].

NEW SECTION. Section 44. Survivorship allowance. (1) (a) Upon the death before retirement of an active member hired before July 1, 1981, his surviving spouse, if there is one, shall, as long as such spouse remains unmarried, receive a survivorship allowance equal to one-half the monthly compensation last received by the member for his service as an active firefighter. If the member leaves one or more dependent children, then, upon his death if he leaves no surviving spouse or upon the death or remarriage of the surviving spouse, his dependent children shall collectively receive the same allowance that a surviving spouse would have received as long as the children remain dependent as defined in [section 4].

(b) If the deceased member completed over 20 years of service, the survivorship allowance provided in subsection (1)(a) must be increased at a rate of 1% for each year in excess of 20, up to a maximum of 60% of the monthly compensation last received by the member.

(2) Upon the death before retirement of a member hired on or after July 1, 1981, his surviving spouse, if there is one, shall, as long as such spouse remains unmarried, receive a survivorship allowance equal to one-half of the member's final average salary. If the firefighter leaves one or more dependent children, then, upon his death if he leaves no surviving spouse or upon the death or remarriage of the surviving spouse, his dependent children shall collectively receive the same allowance that a surviving spouse would have received, as long as the children remain dependent as defined in [section 4].

NEW SECTION. Section 45. Payment of death benefits in absence of spouse or child. If a member dies without leaving a surviving spouse or children, the administrator shall compute the total contributions made to the fund by the deceased member, and if the deceased member had designated a beneficiary in writing to the administrator, the administrator shall issue a warrant for the amount of the total contributions payable to that beneficiary. If the deceased member had not nominated a beneficiary, the contributions shall be paid to his estate.

NEW SECTION. Section 46. Allowance adjustment. For a member hired on or after July 1, 1973, but before July 1, 1981, and his surviving spouse or dependent children, the service retirement allowance provided in [subsection (1)(a) of section 37], the disability retirement allowance provided in [subsection (1) of section 40], and the survivorship allowance provided in [subsection (1) of section 44] may not be less than one-half the monthly compensation paid to a newly confirmed, active firefighter of a city that last employed him as a firefighter, as provided each year in the budget of that city.

NEW SECTION. Section 47. Retirement allowances to be monthly and fixed. The retirement allowances granted under the provisions of [sections 1 through 53] shall be paid in monthly installments and may not be increased or decreased, except as specifically provided in [sections 1 through 53].

NEW SECTION. Section 48. Correction of erroneous payments. If any change in records fraudulently made or any mistake in records inadvertently made results in any member, survivor, or beneficiary receiving more or less than he was entitled to, then, on the discovery of the error, the board shall correct the error and adjust the payments to the member, survivor, or beneficiary in an equitable manner.

NEW SECTION. Section 49. Exemption from taxes. Any money received as a retirement allowance in accordance with the provisions of [sections 1 through 53] is exempt from any state or municipal tax.

NEW SECTION. Section 50. Protection from legal process — unassignability. The benefits payable under [sections 1 through 53] are not subject to the claims of any creditor of a member, beneficiary, or survivor or to attachment, garnishment, or other legal or equitable process. No member, beneficiary, or survivor may alienate, anticipate, commute, pledge, encumber, assign, or sell any of such benefits.

NEW SECTION. Section 51. Payment of insurance premiums. The board shall annually authorize an expenditure from the fund to the Montana state firemen's association for the payment of premiums on a group life and accidental death and dismemberment insurance policy for members. This payment may not exceed  $\frac{4}{5}$  of 1% of the annual compensation, excluding overtime, holiday payments, shift differential payments, compensatory time payments, and payments in lieu of sick leave, paid to all active members during the preceding year.

NEW SECTION. Section 52. Withholding of group insurance premium from retirement benefit. A retiree who is a participant in an employee group insurance plan that permits participation in the group plan following retirement may elect to have the monthly premium for such group insurance withheld by the administrator and paid directly by the administrator to the insurance carrier. To qualify for this withholding, a retiree must be a participant in a group insurance plan available to the employees of his former employer. No withholding may be made for any retiree covered by an individual insurance policy.

NEW SECTION. Section 53. Supplement to certain retirement allowances. The plan shall pay to each firefighter retired before July 1, 1973, or his surviving spouse and children a monthly retirement allowance of not less than one-half the regular monthly salary paid to a confirmed active firefighter of the city that last employed him as a firefighter, as provided each year in the budget of that city. In the case of volunteer firefighters, the retirement allowance may not exceed $75 per month. Distribution of the funds provided for this purpose under 19-11-606(1) shall be made as follows:

(1) At the beginning of each fiscal year the administrator shall request and the state auditor shall issue from the earmarked revenue fund and deliver to the administrator an amount certified to be equal to the total annual dollar difference between what the retirees or their surviving spouses and children received from the fund and one-half of the salary paid by the respective city or town to a confirmed active firefighter for the fiscal year just preceding.

(2) The administrator shall use the funds to increase the monthly retirement allowances of the retirees or their surviving spouses and children to an amount equal to one-half of the salary that was paid to a confirmed active firefighter in the respective city or town for the preceding year.

Section 54. Section 19-9-1007, MCA, is amended to read:

"19-9-1007. Supplement to certain pensions. (1) The payment for each fiscal year to the police officers, spouses, or minor children described in subsections (2)(a) through (2)(c) may be not less than one-half of the base salary paid in the previous calendar year in the appropriate city or town to newly confirmed police officers, except that for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1979, all retirees and their beneficiaries who received a supplement to their retirement allowance on July 1, 1978, and are receiving an allowance on July 1, 1979, shall receive a 3% increase in their retirement allowance in lieu of any other increase.

(2) On or before April 1 of each year, the department of administration shall make a report to the state auditor including the following information:

(a) the names of all police officers who are receiving payments from the plan as of the date of the report and were receiving payments from a prior plan before July 1, 1975;

(b) the names of all spouses or minor children who are receiving payments from the plan because of the death of a police officer who was receiving payments from a prior plan before July 1, 1975;

(c) the names of all spouses or minor children who are receiving payments from the plan and who were receiving payments from a prior plan before July 1, 1975, or in the case of minor children, whose parent, the spouse of a police officer, was receiving payments from a prior plan before July 1, 1975;

The payment shall be in an amount sufficient to cause at least the above-mentioned 1-mill growth in the fund.

(3) If a city is not entitled to receive a sum equal to 1½ mills of its total taxable value under subsections (1) and (2), the payment shall be made in the amount provided in subsections (4) and (6) for cities of the third class and in the manner described in subsection (1).

The insurance commissioner shall collect the tax during March of each year and deposit the moneys in the earmarked revenue fund. The auditor shall pay claims as provided in subsection (2) of this section and [section 53]. (2) Effective January 1, 1976, each association shall pay to the fire-fighters retired before July 1, 1973, or their surviving spouses and children a monthly pension of not less than one-half the regular monthly salary paid to a confirmed active firefighter of that city, as provided each year in the budget of that city. In the case of volunteer firefighters, the pension may not exceed $75 per month. Distribution of the funds provided for this purpose under subsection (1) shall be made as follows:

The state auditor shall, at the same time, report to the treasurer of the appropriate association the amount of any payment delivered to the board of investments.

(b) The treasurer of a city or town receiving funds shall immediately disburse them to the treasurer of the respective association.

(c) The treasurer of the association shall utilize these funds to increase the monthly pension of retirees or their surviving spouses and children to an amount equal to one-half of the salary that was paid to a confirmed active firefighter in the city or town for the preceding year."

Section 62. Section 19-12-301, MCA, is amended to read:

"19-12-301. Fire insurance premium tax to be paid into fund. The state auditor and ex officio commissioner of insurance shall annually deposit in the volunteer firefighters' fund a sum equivalent to 5% of the premium taxes collected from insurers authorized to effect insurance against risks enumerated in 19-11-512, computed after the amounts provided for by section 30 and 19-11-512 have first been deducted. The moneys shall be used for the payment of claims and administrative costs as provided in this chapter."

Section 63. Repealer. Sections 19-11-301 through 19-11-303, MCA, are repealed.

Section 64. Effective date. (1) Section 6 is effective on passage and approval.
